WAR POSSIBLE, U. S. OFFICIAL SAYS

Neutral Nations May Call On Russia To End Blockade

Reported Preparing Proposal; East-West Struggle Rages On

PARIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Small non-Soviet members of the United Nations Security Council tonight were reported preparing a demand that Russia lift the Berlin blockade.

Authoritative sources said one of the small countries of the 11-nation body would introduce, probably next week, a resolution to carry out American-British-French demands to end the blockade. Under the resolution being drafted, the council then would call for a meeting of the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers on the whole German question.

The East-West struggle continued unabated on two other issues—atomic energy and arms reduction—with Russia clashing with the West again in the Assembly's Political Committee.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky accused the Western Powers of blocking world disarmament for the last 20 years and demanded that the Big Four cut their forces by one-third immediately.

Hector McNeil, British Minister of State, said the Soviet plan was not "realistic" and not calculated to create the confidence necessary for disarmament. As for the present Russian government, McNeil said:

"Everyone who dares to disagree with them is a dirty 'warmonger' who is 'waiting to attack us.'"

Subcommittee Gets Atom Issue

Vishinsky pressed his arms-slashing plan after the Political Committee voted to send the ticklish atomic energy question to a subcommittee. Under this action the United States, China, Britain, Russia, France, Canada, Sweden, Brazil, Ecuador the Soviet Ukraine and India were directed to try to reach agreement on a resoultion for submission back to the full 58-nation committee.

Informal working committees of the Security Council delegations with the exception of Russia and the Soviet Ukraine kept busy today privately exchanging views on the Berlin situation.

After the council meeting yesterday the six "neutral" countries—China, Canada, Belgium, Argentina, Colombia and Syria—met informally. The feeling then was that they should support the general position of the Western Powers. In talks today a resolution began to take shape.

Vishinsky concentrated his fire in the arms debate on British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak. He said Lenin was the first to propose disarmament and he said Bevin and Spaak opposed it and aided forces trying to overthrow Soviet Russia.

McNeil Defends Bevin

Vishinsky spoke of the abortive disarmament conferences of the 1920s and said each was brought to naught by Western insistence on "security first." He said that now 20 years late Bevin was going back to the old "security first" theme.

McNeil denied that Bevin had favored intervention in Russia against the Soviets. He said, however, that many people have changed their minds about things they said 20 years ago. He added that Lenin said many things which present Soviet leaders deny although

UMW Backs Only One Who Helped Enact Labor Act

Miners To Support Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.)

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7 (AP) — The United Mine Workers voted today to work for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and the defeat of all but one of those lawmakers who helped enact it.

The aims are the same as those of the AFL, CIO and other independant unions, but John L. Lewis and his miners were proceeding strictly on their own political trail.

The miners' convention agreed to support Sen. John S. Cooper, (R-KY.) for re-election and to work for six Democratic senatorial candidates.

One Exception

The one exception in the drive to beat Taft-Hartley Act supporters was Sen. Cooper. John T. Jones, director of Labors' Non-Partisan League, the mine workers' political arm, advised Kentucky miners that Cooper had an otherwise good labor record.

Jones said that Virgil Chapman, the Democratic candidate, on the basis of his record in the House, would be "possibly the worst enemy labor could have in the Senate, even considering Sens. Taft and Ball."

The CIO's Political Action Committee, however, is supporting Chapman along with other Democratic candidates in Kentucky.

Jones said:

"Why can't we forget we are Republicans or Democrats?"

Most of the men marked for defeat by the Lewis organization are Republicans, although the UMW chief two days ago severely criticized the President and said Mr. Truman was "unfitted" to be President.

NMW Backing Neely

The UMW announced its support of Democratic Senatorial Candidates Metthew Neely of West Virginia, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, former Gov. Kerr of Oklahoma, and James E. Murray of Montana. In addition the UMW is opposing Republican Sen. Brooks of Illinois and Robertson of Wyoming. Those are the principal states where the mine workers may influence elections.

The convention overwhelmingly defeated a resolution to create an independent labor party, proposed by Mike Demchak and Allan Croyle, Saint Michael, Pa.

"Both parties put on a phoney wrestling match each election year," the resolution said, referring to the Republican and Democratic organizations.

Soviets Drop Live Bombs Near Berlin In Air Maneuvers

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Russians announced large-scale maneuvers in the Berlin air corridor today and the British reported the Russians dropped live bombs 12 miles northwest of Berlin.

British Royal Air Force bombers droned out from England tonight and dumped 17½ tons of live bombs on the North Sea island of Heligoland in the RAF's most realistic war exercises since spring. About 50 planes attacked Hitler's one-time U-boat base.

The Russians warned that they planned extensive gunnery and parachute jumping as well as formation flying in the Berlin area. United States air officers said the increasingly-frequent Soviet warnings or air activity are intended to harass the Allied airlift.

Usual Protests Made

The Americans made the usual protests to the Russians.

Actually there were only two reports of the Russians carrying out their activity. One American pilot said he nearly collided with one of three Russian transport planes as he approached for a landing in the British sector. A British pilot reported that he saw a Soviet bomber drop explosives in the Soviet zone near Berlin.

Asked what he thought about the Soviet tactics, Gen. Lucius D. Clay grinned and said: "Who is being harassed?"

The American Governor then said Berliners fed by the airlift may get an increased food ration this winter.

In his most optimistic declaration about the airlift, Clay told a news conference the Western Allies plan to grant a "small increase" soon. He added that if the present good weather continues, every German will have some coal too.

Clay also said the West has an "economic counter blockade" underway as a retort to the Russian move. He said he "hopes it has had an effect."

Red Paper's License Revoked

Today's airlift figures were 4,203 tons of supplies unloaded in Berlin by 440 flights.

The British Military Government announced it has cancelled the license of one Communist-affiliated newspaper and suspended that of another under a military government directive prohibiting a newspaper from disrupting the unity of the occupying powers. Both are in the province of North Rhine Westphalia in the British zone.

Cancelled was the license of Freiheit (Freedom) at Dusseldorf, the violation including a recent attack on the occupying powers and particularly the United States. The other paper, Neue Volkszeintung, also Communist affiliated, began publishing less than two months ago. It was charged with printing "malicious" articles.

Missing Plane Is Found In Virginia

BRISTOL, Va., Oct. 7—(AP)—The CAA reported here today the wreckage of a plane missing since September 29 on a flight from Coeburn, Va., to Washington, D. C., had been sighed on a mountainside, 10 miles southeast of Pulaski, Va.

C. F. Montgomery, a Galax, Va., pilot participating in a search for the plane, found the wreckage and advised the CAA there were no visible survivors from the air. He described the wreckage as being in rugged, mountainous country.

The missing plane has been the object of a wide search. It was piloted by N. M. Keith, Coeburn, and carried two passengers, Mrs. Delia Payne and her daughter, Aleta, Sandy Ridge.

Search for the plane in the Pulaski area followed receipt of a report at the Pulaski airport that the missing plane had landed on September 29 at Chilhowie.

First word of the finding of the plane came from Montgomery when he landed at Pulaski's Loving Field and notified the CAA and Deputy Sheriff J. Andrew Smith. State Trooper Steve Shelton, pilot of a state police plane based at Loving Field, left for the scene to investigate.

Two Miners Killed When Machinery Breaks Loose

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 7 (AP)—Two miners were killed today when a piece of machinery broke loose in the Pursglove No. 8 mine and crushed them.

Mine officials said Fred Richardson, 43, died instantly in the accident. Alex Bellay, 60, who had worked for Pursglove for 21 years, died a few hours later in a hospital.

The men were hit as they started out of the mine at the end of their shift.

High Tension Suicide

FROME, Eng., Oct. 7 (AP) — A coroner's jury decided today that Leslie W. Stocker, 27-year-old draftsman, climbed a pole and touched a wire carrying 11,000 volts to commit suicide while worried about "the war situation and the Berlin crisis."

PATCHED BY PASTOR-- The left arm of four-year-old Anthony Irion (top) was saved when physicians grafted three inches of bone from the hip of Rev. Edward Earle (bottom), Pennsauken, N. J., a Baptist minister. The operation was performed in St. Luke's Hospital, Philadelphia, after physicians said the bone in Anthony's arm was partially destroyed and only a graft could save it. The nurse is Mary Olszewski. (AP Wirephoto)

Dewey Wishes Truman "Very Warm Welcome"

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 7—(AP)—Gov. Dewey left town today and will not be here when President Truman visits Albany tomorrow.

But before the Republican presidential nominee departed for his farm at Pawling he issued a statement wishing his opponent "a very warm welcome." Mr. Truman will give a train-side talk in this Democratic stronghold at 8:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Dewey will stay at the farm tonight, go to New York in the morning and return here tomorrow night. In New York he will take part in a groundbreaking ceremony starting a housing project to be named for the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

RELIGIOUS WRITER, "BOTHERED TOO MUCH," ENDS "DEATH FAST"

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—John A. Bender, 59, a religious writer who began a "death fast" Sunday so that "virtue may regain its dignity," ate his first meal today.

At the start of his fast, Bender said "I will abstain from food to the end so that virtue may regain its dignity. Everything is glorified by dignity. People refuse to sacrifice unless for selfish reasons."

He said he gave up the fast because "people were bothering me too much." He said that police visited him last night and told him it would be illegal to starve himself to death. Bender lost 11 pounds during the fast.

President Calls On Voters To Keep "Reaction" Away

Jersey Gives Truman Tumultuous Greeting

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 7 (AP)—President Truman combined tonight a new appeal for labor support with advice to all voters to head off "a return to reactionary government" and an accompanying world 'tragedy."

He said it is "the sacred duty" of the people to turn out full force on election day to prevent a return to reaction.

Mr. Truman said, too, the Democratic Party did things for labor and will do more. He offered the hope of a higher minimum wage, a "fair deal" for labor, more social security benefits if the election goes Democratic in November.

Bands And Fireworks

He spoke here tonight after a day of heavy campaigning in Eastern Pennsylvania and a noisy, tumultuous welcome to Northern New Jersey. It was a loud, jostling throng with aerial bombs for noise in Elizabeth, N. J.

In Newark there were bands and drum corps, an old-fashioned torchlight parade, and tens of thousands of people. There was a speech in Newark and a promise that "I shall fight with all my strength not only to keep wages up, but to increase them."

And here in Jersey City where former Mayor Frank Hague still is the Democratic chief, the reception was so big and flashy it got entirely out of the hands of 600 special police. It was the biggest thing of the whole Truman campaign.

Truman Calls On Hague

There were more fireworks, huge aerial displays, a waving American flag—and Mr. Truman himself in colors.

And there was a cordial meeting between the President and Hague—

Baltimore School Board Upholds Superintendent Who Fired Red Teacher

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 (AP) — The Baltimore School Board today unanimously upheld the action of its superintendent in dismissing Mrs. Regina Frankfeld as a kindergarten teacher because she is a Communist.

Mrs. Frankfeld, whose husband Philip is head of the Maryland-District of Columbia Communist Party, watched the proceedings from the rear of the meeting room.

After the vote, she rose and said: "I am a member of the Communist Party. I admit it. I am proud of it.

"Nobody will question my loyalty. x x x History will judge who are the Americans, you or I."

Dr. William H. Lemmel, superintendent of public instruction, refused to reassign Mrs. Frankfeld to her teaching post at the opening of the present full semester. He said he was acting under the new policy adopted by the school board last June to bar Communists and "other subversives" from the school system.

The teacher was given a hearing before the school board last month.

Before the vote, Board President Roszel C. Thomsen declared:

"We are not concerned here with the question of the right of Mrs. Frankfeld to believe what she pleases or to express her views. It is our responsibility and our duty to say that she shall be denied the privilege of teaching in the Baltimore public schools."

Thomsen quoted from an article entitled "The Schools and The Peoples Front," which he said was written by a Communist named Richard Frank.

"'Only when teachers have really mastered Marxism-Leninism,'" Thomsen quoted from the article, "'will they be able skillfully to inject into their teaching at the least risk of exposure and at the same time to conduct struggles around the schools in a truly Bolshevik manner.'"

"No doubt Mrs. Frankfeld is a skillful teacher," the board president then added. "The more skillful she is, the better she can serve world Communism. No one who supports Communism can be a proper person to teach in our schools."

Former Minor UAW Official Is Accused Of Shooting Reuther

Warrant Against Carl Bolton, 39, To Be Requested Today

PONTIAC, Mich., Oct. 7—(AP)—Police, trailing for months the gunman who tried to assassinate Walter P. Reuther, said today a warrant will be asked Friday accusing a former minor official of the big CIO United Auto Workers.

He is Carl Bolton, 39, a former vice president of the UAW-CIO's Local 400 at the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Company. Bolton was defeated for re-election nearly two years ago.

Reuther, red-haired president of the UAW-CIO, was shot down in his home the night of April 20. No motive for the attempt to kill him ever was established.

UAW-CIO headquarters said Bolton never was regarded as an active foe of Reuther in union politics.

Prosecutor James N. McNally, of Wayne County (Detroit), said he would go into Recorder's Court in Detroit Friday to ask a warrant. It will charge Bolton with assault with attempt to kill Reuther, he said.

Bolton's Lawyer Surprised

In Detroit, Bolton's lawyer, Joseph Louisell, said, "any warrant or charge against Bolton in connection with Reuther shooting is certainly a surprise to me and I know nothing about it as yet."

Two unidentified persons, named only as "John Does," will be included in the warrant, the prosecutor said.

McNally gave credit for progress in the case to two Michigan state police officers. They are Lt. Joseph Sheridan and Det. Sgt. James Van Landegend.

Michigan state police are not eligible to collect rewards, which total $117,800 in the Reuther case.

The prosecutor did not disclose what led up to today's conference with state police, Detroit officers, Wayne County law enforcement representatives and Oakland County authorities at Pontiac.

Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy in charge of the Reuther case in Detroit, told newsmen:

"It was the unanimous opinion of the conference that the evidence justifies the warrant."

Arrested On Burglar Charge

On September 4, Bolton was arrested in Hammond, Ind. He was accused of the burglary February 28 of a CIO co-operative store in Pontiac. He was brought back here and now he awaits Circuit Court arraignment on that charge.

Officers began questioning him in what appeared to be an extension of the gurglary probe. Also questioned were John Miller, Highland Park, and John Pantello, whose address was not listed. They were being held on a separate burglary count.

Reuther was shot in the kitchen of his home. He had just returned from a UAW-CIO executive board meeting and was standing in the kitchen having a late snack with his wife, Mae.

"Satira" Leaves Havana Prison

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 7 (AP) — Patricia Schmidt, the Toledo dancer who killed her married lover aboard his yacht in Havana harbor, left prison a free woman today under a presidential pardon.

"It's wonderful, it's wonderful to be free again," she said as she walked into the sunlight outside Guanabacoa Woman's Prison.

She announced she was departing at 9 a. m. tomorrow by plane for Toledo, flying by way of New Orleans, to visit her father, John Schmidt.

She is spending the night in the home of some American friends here in Havana.

"I can't tell you who they are as that's a little secret," she said.

The dancer pleaded self-defense in the fatal shooting April 8, 1947 of John Lester Mee, 33-year-old Chicago lawyer.

McKellar To Stick By Truman-Barkley Ticket

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP) — Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn) announced today he is sticking by the Truman-Barkley ticket even if his old friend, E. H. Crump, Memphis political power, isn't.

Crump announced last night that his Shelby County political organization has decided to go for the States' Rights Democratic ticket headed by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina.

McKellar issued a statement today saying he is sorry Crump made that decision. The Senator said he personally will support the regular Democratic ticket, as he announced some time ago.

Big Sapphire Found

BRISBANE, Queensland, Australia, Oct. 7 (AP)—A blue sapphire claimed to be the biggest in the world, has been found near Emerald, Central Queensland, by Mrs. Roy McKinney, a miner's wife.

The sapphire weighs 1,958 carats and is as big as a coffee cup, experts said.

SHOOTING SUSPECT — Carl Bolton (above), 39, is held as a suspect in the shooting of UAW-CIO President Walter P. Reuther. At Detroit, Wayne County Prosecutor James N. McNally said he would ask a warrant today charging Bolton and two unidentified persons with the shooting last April 20.

Ickes Asks Dewey Where He Stands On Conservation

No Reply To Wire Requesting Views

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes, in a telegram made public tonight, asked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey where he stands on conservation of natural resources in general and ownership of offshore oil lands in particular.

Ickes, former Secretary of the Interior under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, said he was particularly concerned because Dewey has "sponsored, enthusiastically and without reservation, many Republican members of the 80th Congress whose principal interest seems to be recklessly to exploit what remains of our national landed estate."

The telegram was dated October 5 and Ickes, in releasing it, said "it seems to me that I should have had a reply, or at least an acknowledgement."

Knows Truman's Stand

Ickes said the issues he raised were of paramount importance. He added that he knew President Truman's stand on them, on the basis of his record and as the result of an Ickes-Truman talk last Monday.

Ickes asked Dewey:

"First, oil—Do you believe that the vast oil deposits, proved and probable, as to which the Supreme Court has held that the nation itself holds the paramount interest should be deeded over as a free gift to the oil interests through the tideland states? Or x x x x should they be held as a sacred trust for the benefit of all the people of

Marshall Aide Scores Russia In Grim Speech

Saltzman Declares U. S. Doing Utmost To Avoid Conflict

DURHAM, N. H., Oct. 7 (AP)—A top State Department official said tonight that while the United States seeks peace, it may "not be possible" to avoid war with Russia. He added, however, that the department will proceed "on the assumption that it is possible."

The statements were made by Assistant Secretary of State Charles E. Saltzman in a prepared address at the University of New Hampshire.

"We are exerting out utmost effort to avoid war," he said.

"We hope to win this conflict this side of war, by patience, calmness and spiritual fortitude. Perhaps this will not be possible but we shall proceed on the assumption that it is possible."

The State Department issued an advance text of Saltzman's speech at Washington several days ago. Late today it issued a set of amendments to the text which Press Officer Michael McDermott said were prepared by Saltzman en route to Durham.

The effect of these amendments was to stress the idea that the United States is working on the assumption that peace "is possible" and hat the propects for maintaining peace will be greater to the extent that his counry is ready to preserve its security and freedom "at all costs."

U. S. Security Threatened

Saltzman also declared in the revised version of his speech that what he had to say tonight "is merely a review of policy statements and background that have already been made public." He did not soften any of the blunt language he had originally chosen for his denunciations of the Soviet government.

Charging that Russia's real aim is "world domonation through the instrumentality of Communism," Saltzman declared:

"The eyes of the American people should now be fully opened. We have completed a painful process of disillusionment. We now know that the Soviet rulers have no intention of co-operating in establishing peace and order in the world.

"Their aims and their methods are a direct threat to the national securiy of the United States."

Diplomatic observers regarded Saltzman's appraisal of the situation as the strongest yet made against the Soviets by a high policy maker in the United States Government. Saltzman is in charge of policy under Secretary of State Marshall for the occupied areas of Germany, Japan, Korea and Austria.

After citing the record of Russia's postwar behavior in the occupied countries, in the United Nations and elsewhere, Saltzman continued:

Discounts Early Berlin Accord

"The Soviet rulers have thus made it plain that x x x they will stoop to any strategem of coer-

Railroad-Union Dispute Placed Before Truman

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—The problem of settling the wage and hour demands of 1,000,000 non-operating railroad workers was before President Truman today.

Attempts of the National (railway) Mediation Board to find a solution collapsed late yesterday.

President Truman will name an emergency fact-finding board in the next few days to study the dispute and make recommendations.

If either side balks at the emergency board's report, the 16 unions involved would be legally free to strike—60 days from that date.

Intervention by a presidential emergency board is the last peace step provided by the Railway Labor Act.

Storm Plunges Bermuda Into Total Darkness

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Oct. 7 (AP)—The hurricane which hit Havana and Southern Florida this week roared over Bermuda tonight plunging the resort island into total darkness.

Power lines were blown down by winds which were believed to have reached 110 miles an hour. The storm struck at 5 p. m. and battered the island for 45 minutes.

Slates were ripped off rooftops, but an estimate of the total damage could not be made because of the darkness.

The storm, third hurricane to hit Bermuda in two months, caused the barometer to fall to its lowest point this year.

Business Blowup

Mystery Car Dealer Is Held On Fraud Charges

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 7 (AP) — A mystery car dealer who has been peddling nearly new automobiles at list price from his alfalfa field "show room" the last few months was bankrupt and under arrest on charges of fraud today.

He is Arthur F. Kramer, suntanned home builder who listed his liabilities at $2,387,063 and assets at $2,533,402. Among his assets he listed $2,500,000 which he claimed another car dealer owed him.

"If the people give us enough time, we'll pay of.," he said.

"Something went wrong," he said, in explaining the blowup of a business that attracted car-eager customers from at least 15 states.

His voluntary bankruptcy petition listed more than 1,300 persons as "creditors with claims unsecured." They had made car deposits ranging from $1,630 to $1,740 and have been awaiting delivery.

Kramer, who operated his open air lot near Jerseyville, in Southern Illinois, sought protection from the sheriff before his arrest. Panicky people, he said, were besieging his car lot.

Irate customers filed involuntary bankruptcy proceedings in Federal Court here yesterday against Kramer and Robert L. Knetzer, Edwardsville. Knetzer is the car dealer who Kramer claims owes him $2,500,000. Knetzer left Edwardsville a week ago and has not returned. Edwardsville is about 30 miles from Jerseyville.

Kramer's bankruptcy petition, filed soon after the involuntary petition, claimed the money from Knetzer was due on notes and an open account. He did not explain the tie-in further.

Annoyed Dutch

Yankee Pilot, Indonesian "Air Force," Is Missing

MANILA, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Indonesian Air Force was officially listed as missing today.

The "force" was Bobby Freeberg, tall, raw-boned American who for more than a year had flown through the Dutch blockade in his beat-up old C-47 transport.

A brief announcement from Batavia said his plane had been missing for six days on a flight between Indonesian Republican territories in Java and Sumatra. There were no details.

Freeberg, a former United States troop carrier pilot from somewhere in the Middle West, was a daring and rather mysterious figure.

The slender communications link he maintained between the Republican capital of Jogjakarta and Manila had long annoyed the Dutch.

He first drew attention in June, 1947, when he flew a $250,000 cargo of quinine from Indinesia. Philippines authorities impounded it, but later released it in an action locally interpreted as tacit recognition of the republic.

The Philippine Foreign Affairs Department gave him a special permit specifying that he could carry passengers and cargo only for the Indonesian republic and would have no diplomatic protection in event the Dutch captured his plane.

He since had made innumerable flights on all sorts of unusual missions. Last December he flew to the Philippines the body of a Filipino volunteer who had died in Indonesia under mysterious circumstances.

The Philippine Civil Aeronautics Administration, checking up today, said he was last heard from when he left Manila International Airport September 16. After he was in the air he got clearance for Amboanga, in the Southern Philippines. Whether he went there is not known, but he obviously went on to Java.

Latvian Refugees Head Across Atlantic

ROSSLARE HARBOUR, Wexford, Eire (AP)—Flying the Latvian flag, the 24-ton auxiliary fishing smack "Volo" with 42 Latvian DPs on board, is lying in Cork Harbour for engine repairs before sailing the Atlantic to the U. S. Those on board include nine women and six children. The men are farmers, fishermen, mechanics, carpenters and seamen who hope to start a new life in America.

Since they left Latvia in front of the Russians in 1944 they have lived and worked in Sweden, where they saved up to buy and provision the Volo. Their ship is only 50 feet long, and to provide accommodation for all her passengers a large deck house, more than half the length of the vessel, was constructed.

Leaving Gothenburg, Sweden, on July 6 they had a good passage across the North Sea and down the English Channel, but off the Cornish coast they encountered headwinds and the engine broke down. After repairs at the Scilly Isles they resumed their voyage, but about 50 miles out into the Atlantic the engine broke down again. They managed to reach Cork Harbour by sail. The Irish Red Cross society has undertaken to pay for the repairs. Members of the party are in excellent health despite the cramped living conditions.

Literature Group To Hear Miss Walsh And David Nuzum

The Literature Group will have Miss Mary G. Walsh and David Nuzum as reviewers for the year's program. Mrs. Raymond T. Bete, chairman, announced at the first meeting of the season yesterday at the Public Library.

Yesterday Miss Walsh reviewed four books, "Dear Lady" by Marjorie Greenbil "We Gather Together," a family story by Sara Jenkins; "Age of the Great Depression," Dixon Wecter, which she said is a book of statistics along with the author's ideas of what really happened in the past depression; and "Woman with the Sword," Hollister Noble, a story about Anna Carroll, a little known great woman of Maryland.

A discussion of the different books followed the reviews. Approximately 25 members attended.

Johnson Heights P-TA To Honor New Pupils' Parents

The Johnson Heights P-TA is having a reception and tea for the parents of new pupils October 11 at the school, beginning at 2 o'clock.

It is being held so that the principal and members of the faculty may become acquainted with the parents of the first grade pupils before the regular meeting of the association October 18.

Miss Loretto McGeady, principal, will preside at the tea table. She will be assisted by Mrs. Emory Showman, secretary; Mrs. Orie Sensabaugh, Hospitality committee; Mrs. Louis Reynolds, Program; Mrs. William Alderton, Home Room Mother chairman; Mrs. Grace Wilson, Membership, and Mrs. Carl Taschenberger, Public Relations.

The program will consist of several musical numbers and a couple short talks.

Bellevue Hospital Traces History Back To 1658

New York City's Bellevue Hospital used to stand on the present site of the city hall, according to the American Nurses' Association. In 1736 the hospital, which traces its history back to 1658, moved to a new building fitted up as a "publick workhouse" with rooms set aside for an infirmary of six beds. A threatened epidemic of yellow fever in 1794 caused the city fathers to build a "pesthouse" on the East River, the nucleus of today's Bellevue. The hospital was one of the first three in this country to establish nursing schools based on the Florence Nightingale system in 1873. This year, therefore, marks the 75th anniversary of professional nursing in the U. S.—the Diamond Jubilee being currently celebrated by nursing and civic groups throughout the country.

Nursing Education

Nursing education has come a long way since 1873, when a "probationer" or student nurse with neither theoretical nor practical experience was set to work in a hospital ward, usually without supervision. A year of catch-as-catch-can experience divided between medicine and surgical wards, qualified her to become a head nurse, says the American Nurses' Association, which is currently observing the Diamond Jubilee of Nursing in the U. S. Today student nurses spend from three to five years in a school of nursing before becoming a graduate nurse.

Truman's Forecast Wrong; Labor Unions Are Doing Well

Several days ago President Truman submitted a report to Congress in which he termed our efforts to keep Greece free of Communistic influence as "conspicuously successful." A day or two later the State Department made known that Greece had made an appeal for further financial and military assistance because matters have not improved to the extent expected. It is another demonstration of Mr. Truman's lack of knowledge as to what is actually taking place in Greece and what is transpiring within his own State Department.

When the Taft-Hartley bill was returned by him to Congress with a veto he voiced the opinion that it was designed to "bust" unions, and during his campaign (and no later than Wednesday night in Philadelphia) he has stated that a Republican regime would make it more oppressive for organized labor. He has been proved wrong on his first prediction and he will be just as wrong on his second.

As a matter of fact, unions have grown, wages have gone up and other benefits have increased during the year since the Taft-Hartley Law became effective. Yet union politicians keep shouting about the law as if it had wiped out—"busted"—organized labor.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has just issued a new directory which shows that unions gained a million members during the first year of the new labor law, giving them a current membership of nearly 16,000,000.

Workers are not ignorant of the fact that wage increases have been general during the past year, while strikes have been sharply decreased. Thus millions of workers have gained not only higher pay, but also the extra money saved by not having to go on strike.

Contrary to charges hurled by labor bosses and labor politicians, not one worker has been "enslaved" by the new law and not one union, as President Truman predicted they would, has been "busted." The few restraints imposed on union leaders have worked to the interest of the general memberships. They require that leaders be more careful about making financial accountings and in holding democratic elections and ousting members for trivial causes than before the law was passed. The law has made it easier to single out and identify pro-Communist union officers and to this can be traced one reason for strikes being fewer.

Only the professional union politicians have felt the effect of the law—and it is significant that they seem to be the only ones beefing.

As to Mr. Truman's charge that the Taft-Hartley Law will be made more stringent on labor under Tom Dewey when he becomes President, it should be pointed out, as did the New York Times last Sunday, "that organized labor, of whose special interest so much has been heard in this campaign, has not suffered at the hands of Mr. Dewey's Administration. On the contrary, organized labor has never before been so strong in New York as it is today, near the end of Mr. Dewey's sixth year at Albany. Nor has it ever before been so well protected by adequate enforcement of state welfare legislation."

In a word, the interests of labor will be in good hands when Tom Dewey takes up his tasks as President on next January 20.

Attorney General Clark Setting A Poor Example

It is a fortunate thing for this country that the prosecution of criminals does not follow the pattern now being set by Attorney General Tom Clark and the Justice Department. If it did, the United States would suffer from the worst crime wave in history.

Attorney General Clark has flatly refused to act on the request of the House Committee on un-American Activities that his department prosecute three persons named by the committee for tampering with atomic secrets. Mr. Clark's excuse was that he would not "institute prosecutions to justify publicity-seekers," and that the committee had presented insufficient evidence.

That is a fine way to run a justice department. Any district attorney or county prosecutor worthy of his job would not dismiss a serious request for action in that manner. Even if the evidence presented him were insufficient to bring a conviction, he would look into the case. He would act to see either that more evidence was unearthed or that the accused was cleared.

But Mr. Clark does not do that. He brushes aside the committee by shouting politics. He says that the committee unearthed nothing that his department did not know, and virtuously complains that the committee is trying to tell the Department of Justice what cases it will or will not prosecute.

Perhaps the un-American Activities Committee has not dug up legal proof. But it has listened to testimony by very valuable and honorable witnesses. Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves told the committee some things that could hardly be called hearsay, coming as they did, from the man who headed the atomic development projects during the war.

It is a dangerous thing to play politics with the nation's security. Yet that is what Mr. Clark is doing. If the Administration has nothing to fear it should be only too glad to investigate the committee's charges. If they were proved untrue, the Administration would be the gainer and the committee the loser. But since Mr. Clark refused to act, the conclusions that he is afraid to do so is obvious.

Canadians Warned

A warning to his countrymen against entering into correspondence with "pen pals" in Europe, especially behind the Iron Curtain, who might turn out to be spies, has been issued by a Canadian official. He says that some requests from these "pen pals" have already been received, asking for pictures of Canadian docks and harbors in return for pictures of "our beautiful cathedrals."

To some this warning might seem an almost amusing example of looking under the bed for enemy agents.

But remember the little Japs who roamed this country with their little cameras in the Thirties? They were funny, too, until December 7, 1941.

Betting odds against Truman are 20 to 1 in New York, with no Truman money available. This is another plot of the "interests," no doubt.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

No Rest For The Doctor

Physicians, like other human beings, are subject to all the frailties and weaknesses of man. They love their families and their homes, but have little leisure time because they are on a 24-hour schedule. This is one of the unpleasant features of this profession, but few physicians have a right to "kick" for they knew this would be their lot long before they studied medicine.

Dr. Van Dellen

Being called at all hours of the night is another drawback. This, of course, cannot be helped as no one can predict when sickness will strike. There is a limit, however, as to how much sleep can be lost. Being awakened several times a night by the phone and going on a house call at 2 a. m. would not be difficult to cope with if the doctor could make up for lost sleep on the following day. But this usually is impossible because tomorrow means more calls to make, operations to perform, and an office full of people to meet. In this respect the physician is like a housewife whose work never is done.

One of the best descriptions of extreme weariness can be found in an excerpt from the story of Adolph Kussmaul in "400 Years of a Doctor's Life," by George and Beate Caspari-Rosen. Dr. Kussmaul is quoted as telling of his experiences during the winter while practicing medicine in a mountain community. This was long before the days of the auto, and house calls were made with a horse, buggy, or by foot. The episode begins with the good doctor leaving his house before sundown in order to be present at a consultation in a neighboring village. It was dark by the time he returned because the road had been so slippery in places that he had to dismount frequently to lead his horse. Hardly had he gone to bed fatigued when someone from another village rang the door bell and asked him to see his wife who was home in bed with a strangulated hernia. They left together and all night was spent trying to correct the condition. By the time the doctor returned day already had dawned. According to Kussmaul: "There could be no thought of rest, as I was busy the entire day, but I hoped to make up for the lost sleep the next night. In this hope, I was fortunately disappointed. I had just stretched out under the cover, when the pitiless nightbell rang again."

This time it was a messenger from a remote farm telling him that his services were necessary to help a child who was desperately ill with the croup. As a result, he had to go out again, only to return the next morning exhausted and with new work awaiting him. Near the end of the day he had to go by sled to a distant home and returned towards evening soaked to the skin and freezing. He had trouble getting warm and began to develop stabbing pains in the chest. He fell asleep at midnight but was awakened early in the morning by the town barber-surgeon who merely wanted to remind him that he had promised to operate on a girl who had a harelip. This he did during the morning and the operation was successful. By this time, his legs were becoming so weak he was hardly able to stand. Paralysis set in and several months elapsed before he was able to walk, and many years before complete recovery occurred.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

In Cleveland all is happiness; our Indians finally got in. I've been waiting 28 years to do that parody on "Casey At the Bat." Twenty-eight years . . . Why, Jack Benny was a boy of ten when we won our last pennant.

Cleveland fans were so used to being in the cellar that prohibition had been repealed ten years before anyone knew it. The only time we had ever had anything in the first division was when two Shaker Heights boys were drafted into it during World War Two.

It had become so bad that not only was Cleveland disowning the Indians, they were getting nasty letters from Chief Crazy Legs and the whole Sioux tribe.

I suggested they be known as the "Pale Faces," but they accused me of attempting a publicity stunt for my next picture.

But it was a great pennant race. It was so close during the final days that after each play the umpires were giving one another saliva tests. And were the boys nervous! A fan cracked a lichee nut in his teeth way up in the upper stands and Lou Boudreau jumped clear up there and tried to catch the shell in his glove.

I'll be covering the World Series for King Features, giving you all the details on how Cleveland is winning. If they are losing, turn on that razor radio broadcast . . . I'll be on it . . . cutting my throat.

Soviet Impressed By Night Of U. S. Paratroopers After The War; Stassen Sacrifices Pleasure For Politics; Pentagon Won't Be Caught Napping Again

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—The inside story has just leaked out how tough, American paratroopers cleaned out a nest of 15,000 Soviet-Mongolian soldiers who had deserted from the Russian Army in 1945 and holed up in the American sector of Berlin during the early days of the occupation.

An account of the incident was given to visiting Senators and Congressmen recently by Gen. Lucius Clay, American Military Governor in Berlin.

The Mongol troops had stayed behind in Berlin, hiding in the ruins, after the Russian Army withdrew to its own sector, Clay reported.

Crazy with lust from their first taste of Western civilization, the savage Mongols lived off the city at night . . . killing, raping and looting. The only U. S. troops Clay had to keep order were green MP's, fresh from the states, and they were no match for the Mongols. These ruthless warriors from the Siberian plains beat up the American MP's, stole their revolvers and jeeps—and even killed a few.

Hard-pressed, Clay sent a frantic order to hold up the sailing of a battle-seasoned paratroop division just ready to leave for home. Diverted to Berlin, Clay outlined the situation and appealed to the paratroopers for help in cleaning out the Mongols.

The combat troopers organized into groups of five and combed the American sector, flushing the Russian deserters out of their hiding places. They met brutality with brutality, beat up the Mongols, broke arms and legs, killed a few who resisted. Then they loaded the battered Mongols into trucks and dumped them at the gates of the Russian sector—where they faced court-charges for deserting the Soviet Army.

It took ten days for the rugged paratroopers to clean up the job and was the first contact American fighting men had with Soviet fighting men.

Impressed, Russian generals pried discreetly to find out from Gen. Clay whether all American combat troops were that tough.

Note—Gen. Clay repeatedly emphasized to his Congressional visitors that the Russians only understood might, mistook conciliation for weakness. It would be a grievous error, he said, for the Americans to retreat from Berlin.

"I am convinced," declared Clay, "that there will be no war if we stand firm in Berlin."

No Brunettes For Stassen

When Capital Airlines volunteered to distribute the first shipments of red feathers for the annual Community Chest Drive, pretty stewardess Lowell Bucher was assigned to deliver the feathers at each airport.

Her plane arrived late in Minneapolis, due to an Air Force Day ceremony that clogged traffic at a previous stop.

At Minneapolis, while Community Chest leaders waited for Miss Bucher's plane to arrive, they spied former Governor Harold Stassen, also at the airport, and requested him to remain and greet Miss Bucher and her red feathers.

Regretfully, Stassen declined. He had to take off immediately for a speaking engagement.

"That's too bad," remarked a Chest official. "You don't know what you're missing. This girl is some dish. Brunette and 21."

No More Pearl Harbors

High Pentagon officials, worried over the Berlin crisis, are determined not to be caught napping. They have devised a special telephone system so they can be reached day and night. Some of them recall the dinner-table conversation between the late Secretary of the Navy Knox and War Production boss Donald Nelson on December 4, 1941—three days before Pearl Harbor—as told in Bruce Catton's book, "War Lords of Washington."

"I feel I can speak very frankly, within these four walls," Knox told the dinner guests. "War may begin in the Pacific at any moment. Literally, at any moment. It may even be beginning tonight, while we're sitting here. . . .

"But I want you all to know that no matter what happens, the United States Navy is ready! Every man is at his post, every ship is at its station. The Navy is ready. Whatever happens, the Navy is not going to be caught napping."

"Are things really as bad as that, Frank?" Nelson inquired.

"Every bit as bad," Knox nodded vigorously. "It can start at any minute."

"You know, if we do have to fight the Japs, I can't see that there'd be much for our Army to do," observed Nelson. "Won't it be pretty much a Navy show?"

"Oh, yes, of course," Knox agreed. "We're all ready for them, you know. We've had our plans worked out for twenty years. Once it starts, our submarines will go in to blockade them, and sooner or later our battle fleet will be able to force an action. It won't take too long. Say, about a six-months war."

Old Fashioned Democrat

Gov. Strom Thurmond, the Dixiecrat candidate, may be from South Carolina, but his fellow South Carolinian, J. Monroe Johnson, Director of Defense Transportation, is going down the political line in the opposite direction.

When District of Columbia Democrats started organizing a $100,-a-plate dinner—the third "go round" of fund tapping this year—some of them wanted assurances it would be the last political dinner. Whereupon "Rowboat" Johnson hit the ceiling.

"How can such assurances be given?" he demanded. "We've got to keep the party going. Democrats who are holding top Government jobs should either fish or cut bait—either kick in or resign. Some people say the Interstate Commerce Commission is nonpolitical. Well, it's no such thing, as long as Democrats and Republicans serve on it.

"The real reason some people preach that nonpartisan stuff is that they don't want to contribute to either party."

Johnson promised that I. C. C. Democrats would be well represented at the dinner. However, his colleagues are wondering how he can deliver without violating the Hatch Act, which strictly forbids a Government employee from soliciting political funds from fellow employees.

Truman's Campaign Tactics Violate Constitution's Spirit

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

In 1866, President Andrew Johnson said: "We have seen hanging upon the verge of the government, as it were, a body called, or which assumes to be, the Congress of the United States." The people responded to this smear by electing a strong anti-Johnson Congress which two years later impeached the President.

The country waited until 1948 before it again witnessed anything approaching this dirty brawl. Even F. D. Roosevelt did not attempt to purge more than a dozen Congressmen and Senators. Mr. Truman would purge Congress itself: "Fire this 80th Congress—a bunch of old mossbacks—the tool of the interests—the worst Congress in history," etc.

Any President may appeal to the country. President Wilson took to the stump in behalf of the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations. Other Presidents have used messages to Congress, newspaper interviews, "White House Breakfasts" and "Fireside Chats" to mobilize public opinion.

Limit To President's Power

Even so conservative a man as Coolidge said: "It is the business of the President as party leader to do the best he can to see that the declared party platform promises are translated into legislative action." Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke of "using the Presidency as a pulpit."

The President has the constitutional duty to "recommend . . . such measures to Congress as he shall judge necessary and expedient." He can ask the people to back him up. Finally, he can veto any bill he does not approve.

But there is a limit to this power. No unlimited power exists in this Republic. The Constitution, which gives the President all the power he has, also gives "all legislative powers" to the Congress of the United States. It is one thing for a President to urge a course of action up to final vote, including the overriding of his veto. After that, can the President, within the spirit of the Constitution, deride Congress and, in doing that, necessarily hold up to derision the acts of Congress, the statutes of the country, for the passage of which he expresses his contempt of Congress? Can he condemn the whole Congress as an institution?

Former Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, in a speech before college students, warned against those who would belittle and degrade Congress as an institution. The path to dictatorship is strewn with the wreck of parliaments.

Not Wrong in Constitutional Sense

A member of Congress may be wrong; he may be criticized, even if right; a party majority or minority may be wrong. But Congress, itself, as a branch of the government, cannot be wrong in any constitutional sense. It is a creature of the Constitution vested by it with "all" legislative powers granted by the Constitution. To attack it is to attack the Constitution which created it.

The Constitution imposes upon the President the duty to "take care that the laws (passed by Congress) be faithfully executed." How can a law be "faithfully" executed by a President who is contemptuous of the Congress that passed it?

Mr. Truman's main quarrel with Congress is over the Taft-Hartley bill and the tax reduction bill, both of which were passed over his veto. This was done only because Democrats and Republicans, by a two-thirds vote in each House, disagreed with him. Thus defeated, a man with a sense of responsibility to "preserve, protect, and defend" the Constitution by the processes of which he was checked and defeated, would say no more.

This goes beyond "campaign oratory" or the hurt vanity of a man "drest in a little brief authority, most ignorant of what he's most assured." It is a violation of the spirit of the American Constitution.

Problem of presidential candidates is as follows. Shall they beat the other fellow into a western state and claim everything? or shall they barge in second and deny it?

A political crowd usually believes what it hears last. A good orator can swing them like they were a brakeman's lamp.

●—●—●

Which means both candidates will talk right up to the handle. They will be as exhausted as porus carbon paper. I'm not including Hank Wallace in this line-up because Hank seems to have been receiving refreshments on the fly.

You notice the candidates never arrive in the same place at the same time. That's because no candidate wants his speeches explained by his opponent.

No Cause For Concern Over Foreign Policy If Dewey Wins

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—Considerable nervousness prevails in political circles over the situation as between Russia and the United States.

Will a crisis develop of such a nature as to cause the electorate to feel that a change in administration would not be in the public interest? Or will the mere fact of chance tend to clear the air immediately after the election of Dewey and cause a clarification of the present uncertainty?

The open evidence of what each camp thinks of the relationship of what is happening in Paris to what is happening on the political stump in America is to be observed in the return of Governor Dewey's adviser, John Foster Dulles—who is expected to be Secretary of State next January—and in the coming home this week end of Secratary of State George Marshall to confer with President Truman.

Unquestionably both candidates desire to give the impression that they are keeping closely informed on the situation abroad. Recently President Truman has been criticized for touring the country, making speeches, while grave international controversies have been developing. The decision of the White House to bring back Secretary Marshall for a week-end conference is designed to correct any impression which the public may have derived of Truman indifference.

Soviet Propagandists Active

Incidentally, the return of Mr. Dulles for conference with Governor Dewey enabled the Republican envoy to Paris to tell the press that a campaign to instill in non-Communist countries a fear of America's stability has been begun by the Soviet propagandists in Europe, using the speeches of Democrats as confirming the Russian prophesies of economic catastrophe. While Mr. Dulles didn't mention Mr. Truman, it is, of course, well known that President Truman has publicly predicted an economic crash if the Republicans are elected. In fact, Mr. Truman has said it was necessary to elect him to "save the country from going to the dogs."

Behind all this sparring between the two parties is the knowledge that the Russians are trying to take advantage of what they believe to be American disunity. Hence public statements and speeches have been made by Governor Dewey and Senator Vandenberg to dispel any such illusion and to emphasize dramatically the existence of the bipartisan understanding on foreign policy.

There remains a suspicion in some quarters here that a crisis may be unnecessarily forced between now and election. The Dewey people are hopeful that the American policy will not bring about any such break. It will be noted that the United Nations has before it a debate which could result in the appointment of a mediating commission. If such a move developed, no crisis would occur for many weeks, if at all.

Easy Transition Certain

It is rapidly becoming clear that the period between election day and inauguration day may present problems of tactics that will involve cooperation between the outgoing and incoming administrations. Because the bipartisan policy has been in operation for many months, it should be relatively simple for the American delegation at Paris to function uninterruptedly. The presence in Paris of John Foster Dulles and former Senator Warren Austin, both Republicans who have the confidence of Governor Dewey and of Senator Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, should make possible an easy transition there of responsibility in the American delegation to the United Nations.

If by chance, moreover, the Democrats gain control of the Senate, it will be noted that Senator Tom Connally, who would then become chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, has played a conspicuous part in the functioning of the bipartisan policy heretofore.

Altogether, there is really no cause for concern with reference to the harmony that should prevail in handling policy at Paris though, to be sure, a change of administration may bring about a clearer definition of over-all policy and thus contribute to a constructive result. For it is more and more apparent here that the Russians do not wish to bring on war.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Molotov on U. S.

THERE was a time when the State Department greeted Molotov as a friend and ally and tried to paint dear Uncle Joe as an intimate member of our family. Nevertheless, on August 1, 1940, Molotov had this to say about the United States:

"Imperialist appetites are growing . . . also in the United States, where there are not a few people who like to conceal their imperialist designs behind a well-advertised 'concern' for the interests of the entire 'Western Hemisphere,' which these gentlemen are prepared to turn into their property with all its numerous republics, and with the colonial possessions of other countries on islands in the neighborhood of the American continent.

"All this harbors the danger of the further extension and fanning of the war and its being turned into a world imperialist war."

And on the same date, he had this to say:

"I will not dwell on our relations with the United States of America, if only for the reason that there is nothing good that can be said about them. We have learned that there are certain people in the United States who are not pleased with the successes of Soviet foreign policy in the Baltic countries. But we must confess that we are little concerned over this fact, inasmuch as we cope with out tasks without the assistance of these displeased gentlemen. However, the fact that the authorities in the United States unlawfully placed an embargo on the gold which our State Bank recently purchased from the banks of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia meets with most energetic protest on our part.

"In this case we can only remind both the Government of the United States and the Government of Great Britain, which adopted the same procedure, of their responsibility for these illegal acts."

These quotations, in themselves, are of no importance. Molotov, Vishinsky, Gromyko, and lesser persons have said worse. The significance of the quotations lies in the fact that they were spoken during the Hitler-Stalin Alliance, when Soviet Russia was aiding Germany in a brutal war, when England stood alone to take the worst strafing that any nation in all this war suffered, and when Molotov could say:

"Lately the foreign and particularly the English and Anglophile press has been frequently speculating on the possibility of disagreements between the Soviet Union and Germany, and attempting to intimidate us by the prospect of the growth of Germany's might. These attempts have been exposed more than once by ourselves as well as by Germany and swept aside as worthless. We can only reiterate that in our opinion, the good-neighborly, friendly relations that have been established between the Soviet Union and Germany are not based on fortuitous considerations of a transient nature, but on fundamental state interests of both the U.S.S.R. and Germany."

What is happening in Paris today with regard to Berlin is a piece with Molotov's statements in August, 1940. By June 1941, Hitler had changed his mind about Soviet Russia and they were at war. Immediately Harry Hopkins rushed into the breach and became Stalin's friend—a friendship which cost the United States $11,000,000,000 in Lend-Lease and bought for us the most potent enemy in our history.

A pro-Russian element developed in the State Department under the leadership of Dean Acheson. It is an error to speak of them all as Communists, fellow-travellers, spies and saboteurs. It is too easy to explain away ignorance, stupidity, willful stiffneckedness.

These men leaned toward Russia not as toward an ally, but as a mother might shower gifts upon an errant child in the hope that kindliness would win respect and love. This became the grand policy of Franklin D. Roosevelt. To it, the United States was sacrificed.

Most astonishing is the lack of historic knowledge which guided these men. They came to believe in the Hegelian doctrine of inevitability. They came to believe the propaganda which they were handing out to the American people. They might have said that we needed Russia and were willing to pay for Russia's services; it was not necessary to say that the mercenery was decent. The price we have paid in confusion is greater than the price we paid in money.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Little By Little

We entrench ourselves in the hearts of others little by little, not by any sudden onslaught. Day by day we give a little here and there, like, putting away pennies in a bank, until, lo and behold, we reach the day when before us stands a friend!

Every time I pass the great Radio Centre—best and most appropriately known as Rockefeller Centre—I think of the dimes that the elder John D. Rockefeller always emphasized. Little by little that great fortune grew. It probably began with a dime!

Little by little the Cathedral rises, a brick or stone at a time. In the early days a boy was fortunate to get the opportunity to serve as an apprentice. Preparation was the keynote of his ambition. Today too many of our youth insist upon being taken to the upper floors by way of the elevator, rather than by way of the stairs, by which they might rather have ascended, step by step.

By unfolding ourselves little by little to our prospective friends we gain their greatest confidence and their loyalty. Their understanding, as well. People think longest of the talk of those who have expressed themselves best and briefest. Little by little they become known.

Our forefathers took time, thus bequeathing to us a noble heritage of sturdiness and character. We want things done in a hurry today—and so the flaws creep in, and there are trouble and complainings. Our destructive forces are outrunning our creative forces, those forces to which we look for material and spiritual existence.

Little by little we learn about life and how to live. It doesn't come by a single bound. Much of it is the result of both sweat and tears, as well as defeat and failures. But we can always keep the lure ahead by our God-given will and determination, and an unfaltering faith. Little by little the structure of character is completed.

Patience is a major virtue. One step always suggests another. Little by little we reach the object of our dreams—or a reasonable fac-simile thereof!

U. S. "Debunks" Red Atom Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall has ordered an international campaign to "debunk" Russia's latest proposal for control of atomic energy.

Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett said today the order came from Marshall in Paris.

Lovett said Marshall acted after the French radio reported that Russia was retreating from her previous demands on the control of atomic energy and was making a concession to the Western Powers.

"The retreat is entirely imaginary," Lovett told President Truman's new advisory commission on information.

He explained that the "basic problem" still remains:

"Do you get international inspection, and do you get elimination of the veto in order to make international inspection effective?"

Russia's latest proposal was submitted to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris last Saturday by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

The Soviet Minister demanded that the United Nations ban the atomic bomb and set up atomic controls, but still insisted on veto power over the controls.

Lovett said the Soviet proposal merely "clouded the issues" and the American United Nations delegation became concerned over the French reaction to it. As a result, he said, on Marshall's instructions the State Department's "Voice of America" broadcasts have beamed explanations overseas in a score of languages.

Runaway Fireworks Truck Crushes Woman

WEST NEWTON, Pa., Oct. 7 (AP) — A truck loaded with fireworks careened out of control down Main Street Hill today and overturned at the bottom, crushing a 55-year-old woman to death.

The victim, Mrs. Ethel Cauley Van Kirk, was crossing the street when the vehicle upset on her.

Police said Charles Whilly, Elkins, Md., driver of the truck, told them his brakes failed midway down Main Street Hill and that he cut off the ignition to avert an explosion.

Train Passengers See Series Via Television

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Television boarded a moving train today and baseball fans, whizzing along at 80 miles an hour, watched the World Series.

Except for some experimental runs, this was believed to be the first television reception on a train in history.

Technicians said results were surprisingly good. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad indicated it might install it as a regular fixture on its better trains.

Flagpole Sitter Comes Down After 71 Days

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7 (AP) — Milton Van Nolan came down today from the flagpole where he had sat in a horse saddle for 70 days, 23 hours and 33 minutes.

Van Nolan, who stayed atop the 50-foot flagpole as a publicty stunt for a used car dealer, claimed a world record. He was congratulated by "Shipwreck" Kelly, Jr., who sat on a pole in Atlantic City for 49 days.

Ozzie Osborne recently stayed aloft 52 days at Long Beach, Calif.

Thuringia, In Red Zone, Would Try Ilse Koch

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Radio Berlin said tonight a demand has been made to have Ilse Koch, one-time mistress of Buchenwald concentration camp, delivered to Thuringia in the Russian zone of Germany.

The broadcast quoted Thuringian authorities as saying she would be tried and sentenced by a "competent" court in Weimar. Buchenwald is located near Weimar in Thuringia.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor for Germany who recently reduced the Koch woman's sentence from life to four years, indicated today a new trial for her is unlikely.

plants. When such conversation is heard, when a tip or lead on such a possibility is picked up by a clerk, waitress, taxi driver or anyone else in contact with visitors, this information should be passed on to the committee immediately.

Smith, who is manager of the telephone company here, said he will accept such a call any time. The Chamber of Commerce is also interested.

A program of public relations for Cumberland, the committee agreed, is as important as a program of advertising and publicity throughout the country.

Several leads are now being probed and information is being sent a number of prospects.

The committee is enthused over progress made in laying the ground work for industrial promotion, and believes that with city-wide interest and co-operation, new plants, large and small, can be established here.

Cumberland has many little known and unpublicized advantages over other cities in the state and over many in the east, preliminary surveys reveal, the committee reported.

Smith said a series of educational type radio programs and newspaper releases will be prepared, and other activities announced at an early date.

He was named in Mrs. Patterson's will as one of several newspaper executives to inherit the newspaper. Porter left the employment of the Times-Herald before Mrs. Patterson's death, however, and a codicil to the will eliminated him as an heir to the paper.

The letter from abroad, received two days ago at Clarksburg, was written in poor penmanship, apparently by an adult.

Policeman Is Acquitted In Death Of His Wife

TOWSON, Md., Oct. 7 (AP)—Samuel A. Coomer, 29-year-old Baltimore County policeman, today was acquitted of the murder charge filed against him after he reported his wife a suicide.

Circuit Judges John B. Gontrum and J. Howard Murray, who heard the evidence without a jury, said the state failed to prove Coomer guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Several hundreds who had crowded into the courtroom sent up a cheer.

Coomer called his lieutenant about 3 a. m. on Sunday, August 1, and reported his wife had come in from a drinking spree and shot herself.

Gaekwar's Horse Not Entered In Race

LONDON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Fred Armstrong, trainer of the Gaekwar of Baroda's three-year-old colt, My Babu, said today the horse would not be sent to New York for the Empire City Gold Cup race at Belmont park, Oct. 16.

"Forewarned by htsi knowledge, we must be fore-armed by an alertness to danger and a readiness to preserve our security and freedom at all costs."

"If we do so," Saltzman added, "the prospects of peace will be much greater since it would then be less likely that any foreign power would attempt to coerce this and other countries by force."

Saltzman dealt at length with the Western Power negotiations with Russia over the Berlin blockade and emphasized points which he said show that Moscow is to blame for collapse of the four-power talks.

"I wish I could give you some assurance that the critical situation in Berlin will be resolved peacefully and soon," he said. "I can give you no such assurance.

"All that the American government and the other governments wtih which it is associated can do is to assure you they will do their utmost to keep the peace by all means consistent with justice and honor."

Police Chief Charles Wilson estimated 200,000 persons jammed the streets.

Special County VD Drive Begins

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Faced with the fact that there are more cases of syphilis reported from the 23 Maryland counties than chicken pox or measles, the State Health Department has launched a special county venereal disease drive.

At present, the department is concentrating its attack against VD in the nine Eastern Shore counties. As soon as possible, it will be extended to Anne Arundel, Charles, Calvert, St. Marys and Prince Georges Counties.

Dr. Robert H. Riley, head of the department, pointed out that syphilis ranked first among all communicable diseases reported from the counties. Gonorrhea ranked second, and together they accounted for 37 per cent of the reported communicable ailments.

Tuberculosis wound up a "poor" third, and was followed by chicken pox, pneumonia, whooping cough anr measles, in that order.

Dr. Riley, in announcing the campaign, said:

"Modern medicine can now treat most cases of syphilis in less than a week; gonorrhea with pust one injection of penicillin.

"But, besides these medical weapons, we must have a fully informed and aware public if veneral disease is to be controlled and eventually eradicated."

A major part of the campaign will be to break the chain of infection by locating VD victims, tracing all persons known to have been in contact with them, and bringing the "contacts" into clinics for examination.

Von Nida Captures English Golf Match

SUNNINGDALE, England, Oct. 7 (AP)—Norman Von Nida of Australia won the Dunlop-Masters professional golf tournament today, coming from behind on the final round with a record-breaking 63.

In winning first prize of 300 pounds ($1,200), the Australian star put together a 72-hole score of 71-66-72-63—272 over the 6,477-yard Sunningdale Course.

"Time For U. S. To Face Up To Russia," Stassen Says

WEIRTON, W. Va., Oct. 7 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, University of Pennsylvania president and former aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, today declared the United States should not retreat "one inch" in its dealings with Russia.

"It is time for the United States to face up to Russia," Stassen declared in an address at Weirton High School stadium. "We must not yield one inch."

McNeil assailed the Soviet arms plan at length declaring that Vishinsky "knows down to the last h'penny" what the British are spending for armament. He added:

"Can anybody, even those most intimate with Soviet Russia, tell us what forces the Soviet Union has deployed?"

Henri Rolin, the Belgian delegate, said the Soviet arms reduction plan would not work and that it made no provision for the necessary controls.

Pearl S. Buck Assails Segregation Before Addressing State Teachers

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 (AP) — Pearl S. Buck, novelist and Nobel Prize winner, found an all-white audience when she prepared to address a meeting of the Maryland State Teachers Association today.

She preceded her lecture on "America Looks at Asia," with a protest against segregation and said that she would make her speech only "because of the kind and tolerant attitude of the Maryland Negro Teachers Association."

Miss Buck said it was against her "principle and practice" to take part in meetings where "all who should be included" are not present, and that she had expected negro teachers would attend when she first accepted the invitation.

"It distressed me very much to learn that negro teachers were not to sit with us," Miss Buck said. "I felt that my friends of many races and colors would not understand my speaking under those circumstances.

"I suggested that the situation be met by asking that the session be held under the auspices of the negro teachers association. Later I was told that the proposal had been advanced, but that the program of the negro association had been all arranged."

She added she learned still later that the negro group would have been glad to sponsor the meeting.

The novelist asserted that American prejudices against members of the colored races has helped destroy the faith of other peoples in the United States and is an aid to Communism.

"I pity the people who are enslaved by prejudice," she said. "For those who suffer from this emotional difficulty, I suggest that you act as though you had no such feelings and that in time they will cease to exist. If you can't overcome them in yourself, I implore you not to pass them on to children."

W. Md. Presbyterial To Hear Murdoch Sisters

Meeting Will Be Held Here Oct. 26

The Western Maryland Branch of the Baltimore Presbyterial will have the three Murdoch sisters, Baltimore, as guest speakers at its fall luncheon and meeting October 26.

Dr. Agnes Gordon Murdoch, M. D., Miss Margaret F. Murdoch, R. N., and Miss Mary Cole Murdoch, evangelist, returned home on the Gripsholm, after 33 years' missionary work in China.

The meeting is to be held in the First Presbyterian Church lecture hall here with the morning session beginning at 11 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Mrs. Boyd W. Hosler, chairman, will preside and Mrs. C. H. Goshorn, of First Presbyterian Church, Lonaconing, will have charge of the devotionals. Mrs. Frederick Haas will give a talk on the leadership training course which she took at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. Mrs. Robert H. Campbell and Mrs. Dawn Koelz, both of Southminster Presbyterian Church, will give reports. The former will tell of the General Assembly meeting in Seattle, Wash., in June and the latter will speak of the Presbyterial to be held in Baltimore October 19.

Members of the Woman's Association of the host church will serve as hostesses.

Nominating Committee

The Nominating committee for the Bowling Green Homemakers Club was named at the meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Pierson Gilbert. It includes Mrs. Glen Johnson, Mrs. Troy Haddix, and Mrs. Howard Bell.

Plans were discussed for a Christmas party with Mrs. Nelson Warren and Mrs. Johnson in charge, and for the club Achievement Day, November 9, when the Potomac Park, Potomac Valley and Cresap Clubs will participate. Mrs. J. E. Tritt gave a resume of the York fair.

Recent Bride Honored

A pre-nuptial shower honoring Mrs. Richard Selby was given by Mrs. Max Heming recently at her home, Frederick Street. The former Miss Retha Jean Rush was married to Mr. Selby October 3 in the Baptist Church, Friendsville. Janet Heming, daughter of the hostess, was her flower girl. The bride formerly was employed by the Baltimore and Ohio dispatchers' office.

A miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table, which was decorated with pink and blue flowers and candles. A shower of pink and blue ribbons attached to a matching sprinkling can cascaded over the shower gifts. Games were played and prizes won by Orval Rush and J. H. Moore.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Orval Rush, Friendsville; Miss Lola Burrell, Miss Hazel Speicher, Miss John Speicher, Janet Ann Heming, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Jeffreys, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Herbert Dawson and Max Heming.

Aims And Purposes Of Sorority Outlined

Mrs. George Hankins and Miss Betty Roemmelmeyer outlined the aims and purposes of Beta Sigma Phi at the annual model meeting of Omicron Chapter for rushees, which was held Tuesday at the Girl Scout house.

A cultural program on "Our Crowning Glory" was given by Miss Margaret Lester. It was announced that the next meeting will be held October 19 at 7:30 when a tour will be made of the S. T. Little Jewelry Store. Refreshments were served concluding the meeting, with Mrs. Harry Bowman, Mrs. Hankins and Miss Roemmelmeyer in charge.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Eunice H. Ketterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gordon, Keyser, W. Va., to Leonard H. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Robinson, Paw Paw. The ceremony was performed September 27 in the First Christian Church by Rev. Ralph Miller. Miss Ruth L. Brewer and Curtis Walton were the attendants.

The bride wore a royal blue costume and her attendant also was in blue.

The bridegroom, who served five years in the Army Medical Corps, and his bride will reside in Baltimore.

Buenos Aires, the name of Argentina's capital city, means "good air."

CAP Squadron To Be Organized Here

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Civil Air Patrol Squadron for Cumberland and surrounding area will be held at 8 p. m. next Wednesday in City Hall auditorium, according to William Johnson, local pilot.

A representative of CAP headquarters in Baltimore will be present, Johnson has been informed by Lt. Col. E. R. Fenimore, state CAP commander.

Col. Fenimore reports that 50 members are required to establish a squadron. After the membership requirement is reached, equipment will be sent here for training purposes.

Equipment includes radios, parts of wings, used engines, and other parts of planes which can be dismantled and rebuilt during class periods.

The CAP furnishes a squadron a radio setup adequate for the country-wide CAP radio network. Link trainers, for ground flight instruction, are also available.

Johnson said after the squadron is organized plans will be made to erect buildings at the Municipal Airport.

Membership in the CAP cadet corps is open to girls and boys between the ages of 15 and 18, while the squadron is for any aviation enthusiast, where he has pilot's license or not.

Headquarters also offers an L-4 Army liaison plane for indoctrination work at stated periods.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

19th CENTURY ROMANCE IN 1948 FASHIONS
Your new martin coat

AT MARTIN'S, coats this season temper their elegance with a simple ease. Beautiful costly fabrics are cut in graceful lines. Coats hang easily from shoulders or a shoulder yoke, or fit closely at the waist, ripple into fullness at the hem. Coats may be string-straight or contrast front slimness with back fullness. Fur is applied as a discreet accent or fabric is used alone and in dramatic abundance. Coats, at Martin's, follow in the Empire, the Edwardian, the Victorian modes to reflect 19th Century romance in 1948 fashions.
Coats, at Martin's, illustrate in wonderful variety the many, gentle ways of Fashion for '48. Prices start at 59.98

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs Plan Pilgrimage Sunday

A large delegation from Western Maryland IOOF and Rebekah lodges will attend the annual pilgrimage to the Odd Fellows Home at Frederick Sunday, it has been reported.

The pilgrimage program will get underway at 2 p. m. with the principal address to be delivered by W. Lee Elgin, commissioner of motor vehicles for Maryland. Robert W. Young, this city, grand master, will also speak.

A bus will leave Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street, at 9 a. m. for the convenience of those not having cars.

A dinner sponsored by Cumberland Encampment No. 23, I. O. O. F., will be served at Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street, Tuesday at 6 p. m. in honor of Grand Patriarch Edward W. Hearn, Baltimore, who will make an official visitation to the local encampment. He will be accompanied by members of his staff. The dinner will be served by Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1, and is open to the public. The Royal Purple Degree will be conferred on a class of candidates, following the dinner.

Rebekahs and Odd Fellows of Cumberland will attend Central Methodist Church at the evening services on Sunday, October 17. They will march in a body from the temple, South Mechanic Street, to the church.

Naval Reserve Adds Members

Three area men were taken into the Cumberland Naval Reserve unit recently, Lt. Cmdr. Edwin R. Edwards, commanding officer, has announced.

Half Of Draftees Fail Examination

Half of the 22 Allegany and Garrett County men examined for Selective Service here failed to pass the examinations since Tuesday, it was disclosed yesterday by First Lt. George J. Gocke, officer in charge of the local Army and Air Force Main Recruiting Station.

Gocke said four men failed the physical examinations and seven failed the mental test. One man has failed both tests, he said, adding that reports have not been returned on physical examinations of six men from Board 28 who were examined yesterday.

The 22 men have come from Frostburg Board 30, Oakland Board 47 and Cumberland Board 28. They took their mental tests at the Army office and their physical at the offices of a local physician.

On the basis of previous experience with selectees, Lieut. Gocke said that the percentage of physical and mental rejections would probably run high until the lower age groups are reached. Those examined so far have been in the upper age brackets of the eligible 19 to 25-year-olds.

The mental test is compiled to determine a man's ability to learn and is patterned after the Army's general classification test which was given in World War II, Lieut. Gocke said. He added that "any man with an eighth grade education should be able to pass the test easily."

Physical rejects are expected to be high among the older men because many of these were turned down for military service for the same reason during World War II, Lieut. Gocke explained. Also a number of draftees were deferred during the war as "occupational specialists."

May Ask Interview

P. Emmett Fahey, head of the area draft boards said a registrant has ten days after he is mailed notice of classification to request a personal interview with his draft board if he objects to the classification. In the event the interview does not result in a classification change, the registrant has the right of appeal to the District Appeals Board.

A request for a personal interview or an appeal does not stay the pre-induction examination, it was disclosed.

But it was also made clear that a call for examination does not prevent an appeal provided it is taken within the period of 10 days after the notice of classification is mailed.

It takes nearly 11 quarts of milk to make a pound of butter.

Cessna To Head W. Md. Coin Club

Holmes H. Cessna was elected and installed president of the Western Maryland Coin Club, Inc., at a meeting Wednesday night in Ali Ghan City Club in observance of the club's 10th anniversary.

Norris Bruce, Westernport, was elected vice president; Martin L. Johnson, secretary - treasurer, and William L. Wilson, Sr., librarian.

Plans are being formulated for an oyster roast at the Crystal Laundry at the November meeting. A coin exhibit is also scheduled for next month's session. Plans are being made for the club's fourth annual hobby show, which will be held some time next year.

Club officers said any persons interested in coins are invited to attend the next meeting.

The Royal Mint of Sweden turned out more new coins in 1947 than in any previous year, or a total of 62,000,000.

Police Probe New Thefts

City Police are investigating the theft of four tires from a 1932 pickup truck owned by Calvin Butler, 5 Race Street, Wednesday night.

Butler said the thieves took his truck from Grand Avenue extended to 121 Grand Avenue before removing the tires.

Butler notified police at 6:45 p. m. and said a woman spotted several persons removing the tires from the truck. No estimate of the loss was given.

Police went to Tri-State Cleaners, 540 Maryland Avenue, yesterday to investigate an attempted breaking and entering through the front door. The owner, Wade Sheetz, 530 Louisiana Avenue, said nothing was missing.

A Box From Home

HOMEMADE CANDY . . . For a dormitory feast

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want to be the favorite aunt or uncle or parent of a boy or girl away at school, see that you send them a package once in a while. There's something about being remembered, when you're away from home, that makes life a lot sweeter . . . especially if the remembrance is a parcel of fudge.

Quick Fudge

8 squares (1 eight-ounce package) candy-making chocolate
⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat chocolate over boiling water until partly melted; then remove from boiling water and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Add condensed milk, salt, and vanilla, and blend well. Turn mixture into greased 8 x4 x 3 inch loaf pan. Cool until firm. Cut in squares. Makes about 20 pieces.

Quick Fudge Turnabouts

Chocolate Pecan Squares—Use above recipe. While fudge is still soft, place pecan halves on top at regular intervals. Cool and cut in squares.

Chocolate Marshmallow Fudge—Use above recipe. Turn half of mixture into greased 8 x 4 x 3 inch loaf pan. Spread 8 marshmallows, melted over top. Cool until firm and cut in squares.

Chocolate Coconut Rolls—Use above recipe. Shape mixture in rolls. Roll in chopped shredded coconut and cool until firm.

Chocolate Nut Balls—Use above recipe. Shape mixture in balls. Roll in coarsely chopped nut meats and cool until firm.

Another easy-to-make sweet is a marshmallow-nut chocolate concoction, known variously as Rocky Road or Heavenly Hash. First step is to line the bottom of a 9 x 4 inch loaf pan with waxed paper, letting paper extend in 2-inch tabs at each end. Arrange 10 marshmallows, cut in quarters in pan and fill spaces between with one-half cup of coarsely cut walnuts. Heat candy-making chocolate over boiling water until partly melted; then remove from boiling water and stir rapidly until entirely melted, and pour over the layer of marshmallows and walnuts. Cool and then lift candy with paper tabs; cut in bars of large pieces.

Butter Crunch

1 cup butter or margarine.
1 cup sugar
½ cup finely chopped blanched almonds of cashew nuts(ightly toasted)
4 squares (4 ounces) candy-making chocolate

Add butter or margarine to sugar in saucepan. Place over low heat and constantly until sugar is dissolved. Cook until a small amount of mixture becomes very brittle in cold water (or to a temperature of 310F.), stirring occasionally to prevent scorching. Add ¼ cup of the nut meats. Pour into lightly buttered 8 x 8 x 2 inch pan. Cool. Heat chocolate over boiling water until partly melted, then remove and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Spread one-half of the chocolate over top and sprinkle with one-half of the remaining nut meats. Cool until chocolate is firm. Invert crunch and cover with remaining chocolate. Sprinkle with remaining nut meats. Cool until chocolate is firm. Break in small irregular pieces. Makes about 1¼ pounds.

CANNED FOODS PROVIDE ECONOMY AND NUTRITION

Canned foods score when economy and nutrition are up for discussion. Research has proved that foods in tin are fully as nutritious, if not more so, than many "fresh" foods cooked by the usual home methods.

These studies of nutritive values of canned foods have been carried on in leading American universities. The research has shown that proteins, carbohydrates and fats are not adversely affected by cooking. In fact, the cooking process makes the plant or animal tissues easier to digest.

Foods high in these food values in the fresh state may be expected to be high in them canned.

In some cases the canned food is higher in these values due to the addition of sugar sirup to fruits. . . which increases the carbohydrate content. . .or of oil to fish. . .which increases the fat content.

Vitamins are the nutrients hardest to retain. Air, water and long cooking hasten their destruction. But here again research has shown that canned foods are dependable sources of vitamins, particularly where the original raw product is known to have significant amounts.

Canned foods even have the advantage over many so-called fresh, home cooked foods. Canneries usually adjoin the farms and orchards where the fruit and vegetables are grown. The produce is harvested at the peak of its goodness, immediately prepared and processed.

There is no chance of vitamin loss during a long trip to the market or while standing in store bins. Also, food in canneries is cooked inside of sealed cans assuring the retention of vitamins that might be lost in ordinary home cooking methods.

As for mineral values, the preparation procedures of canning involve only moderate losses, and the heat processing none at all. The water-soluble minerals will be found to some extent in the liquid portion of the canned product.

Nutrition research on canned foods has been carried on for many years but in 1942 the National Canners Association and the Can Manufacturers' Institute started a new and extensive program. The work, still in progress, is conducted at universities and colleges by recognized nutritionists. In addition to the studies of protein, energy value, vitamin and mineral content of canned foods, other studies deal with the effect of storage time and temperature after packing.

Research is also being carried on with the view of improving the raw products for commercial canning, the care of produce after harvesting and prior to canning, and the canning operations themselves.

In general, men and women auto drivers make the same mistakes, tests have proved.

Vegetables Put Color In Your Diet

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you have to keep one eye on the budget you'd better keep the other on vegetables and feature them generously in your menus. But don't expect your family to welcome them unless you pay a good deal of attention to the way they're cooked. I'm all on the side of husbands and youngsters who refuse to eat vegetables that are overcooked, of poor color and texture, and badly seasoned, or perhaps not seasoned at all.

Cook vegetables in a small amount of water quickly, and only for the shortest possible time, are the two cardinal rules. Vegetables should be tender but still crisp, for the main part, when they are served. When it comes to color the New York State College of Home Economics has some interesting facts to cite about vegetable pigments—here are their vegetable palette explanations.

"Green Vegetables, such as spinach, chard, green snap beans, and green cabbage, contain the pigment called chlorophyll which is slightly soluable in water, as is shown by the green color in spinach water. Chlorophyll turns brown when heated in the presence of acid. All vegetables contain at least traces of acid, but fortunately it is in a volatile form so that it escapes with the steam if the cover is left off the kettle during cooking. . . . From the color standpoint, the most satisfactory way to cook a green vegetable is to boil it in an open kettle."

"Red Vegetables, such as beets and red cabbage, contain the pigments called anthocyanins. They are very soluble in water as is shown by the 'bleeding' of beets. Alkali turns them a brownish color, while acid intensifies the red. Commercial canners make use of this fact when they add vinegar to canned beets. A teaspoon of vinegar to a pint of water is a good proportion to use in cooking either beets or red cabbage."

"A pigment called flavone and its derivatives are found in yellow onions, turnips, celery, and white cabbage. This pigment is colorless until heated in the presence of alkali, when it turns yellow. Overcooking has the same effect as alkali in bringing out the yellow color in onions and cabbage."

"The yellow pigment found in carrots, squash, pumpkin, and rutabagas is called carotinoid. It is slightly soluble in water and is not affected by acid or alkali. Because it is so stable it needs special attention in cooking."

The photograph featured here suggests a most colorful and attractive arrangements of vegetables. Here are recipes for their preparation.

Buttered Zucchini—One of the most delicious ways to cook zucchini squash is to smother it in butter. Wash the zucchini, cut off the ends and any blemishes but do not peel; slice into ¼ to ½ inch slices. Melt some butter in a deep skillet, add the zucchini slices, stir to coat them well for a few minutes, cover tightly, adjust heat so that it is moderate and steam in this way a very short time, just until the squash is tender but still crisp.

Stuffed Onions with Cheese Sauce

Ingredients: 6 large onions, 1 cup ground leftover meat, ½ teaspoon salt, Dash freshly ground pepper, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup shredded American cheese.

Method: Peel onions and boil in a small amount of salted water only until partially tender. Drain and remove center of onions carefully with a knife. Chop centers with meat, season with the ¼ teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper and stuff onions with this mixture. Place in a shallow baking dish, dot with butter and add a little water. Bake in a very slow (300 F.) oven for 20 minutes. Meanwhile make cheese sauce by melting the 4 tablespoons of butter in a saucepan over low heat; blend in flour. Remove from heat and add milk slowly, stirring until smooth after each addition. Return to moderate heat and stir constantly until sauce bubbles and thickens. Remove from heat, add salt and cheese and stir vigorously so hot sauce will melt cheese. Serve over stuffed onions. Makes 6 servings.

Celery Broiled Tomatoes

Ingredients: 6 small tomatoes, 3 tablespoons minced celery, 3 tablespoons melted butter, ¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs, salt, freshly ground pepper.

Method: Wash tomatoes and cut slice from stem end. Mix together minced celery, butter and crumbs. Place tomatoes under broiler about six inches from source of heat. Cook about 20 minutes or until tomatoes are done. Makes 6 servings.

VEGETABLE SYMPHONY . . . Tomatoes, onions, squash.

Here Are Simple, Easy-To Fix Desserts

Peach Up-Side-Down Cake

1 No. 2½ can cling peach halves
3 tablespoon brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter or oleo
¼ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup drained peach syrup
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Drain peaches well, reserving ½ cup of the syrup for the cake batter. Place peach halves, cut side down in 2-inch deep layer or square cake pan, 8 inches in diameter; sprinkle with the brown sugar and dot with butter. Cream shortening with orange rind, add sugar gradually, creaming thoroughly. Add egg, mix well. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; sift about ⅓ of the flour mixture into the creamed mixture and mix well; stir in about ½ of the peach syrup; add the remainder of the flour and syrup alternately, stirring between each addition to make a smooth mixture. Pour on top of peach halves. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 50 minutes. Let stand on cake rack about five minutes, then turn out on serving plate. Yield: eight servings.

Grapefruit Dessert Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup canned cold grapefruit juice
1¼ cups canned hot grapefruit juice
¼ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup chopped pecans
2 cups diced grapefruit sections, well drained

Soften gelatine in cold grapefruit juice. Add hot grapefruit juice, sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in celery, pecans and grapefruit sections. Turn into large or individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and serve with fruit French dressing. Yield: six servings.

Vegetables Put Color In Your Diet

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you have to keep one eye on the budget you'd better keep the other on vegetables and feature them generously in your menus. But don't expect your family to welcome them unless you pay a good deal of attention to the way they're cooked. I'm all on the side of husbands and youngsters who refuse to eat vegetables that are overcooked, of poor color and texture, and badly seasoned, or perhaps not seasoned at all.

Cook vegetables in a small amount of water quickly, and only for the shortest possible time, are the two cardinal rules. Vegetables should be tender but still crisp, for the main part, when they are served. When it comes to color the New York State College of Home Economics has some interesting facts to cite about vegetable pigments—here are their vegetable palette explanations.

"Green Vegetables, such as spinach, chard, green snap beans, and green cabbage, contain the pigment called chlorophyll which is slightly soluable in water, as is shown by the green color in spinach water. Chlorophyll turns brown when heated in the presence of acid. All vegetables contain at least traces of acid, but fortunately it is in a volatile form so that it escapes with the steam if the cover is left off the kettle during cooking. . . . From the color standpoint, the most satisfactory way to cook a green vegetable is to boil it in an open kettle."

"Red Vegetables, such as beets and red cabbage, contain the pigments called anthocyanins. They are very soluble in water as is shown by the 'bleeding' of beets. Alkali turns them a brownish color, while acid intensifies the red. Commercial canners make use of this fact when they add vinegar to canned beets. A teaspoon of vinegar to a pint of water is a good proportion to use in cooking either beets or red cabbage."

"A pigment called flavone and its derivatives are found in yellow onions, turnips, celery, and white cabbage. This pigment is colorless until heated in the presence of alkali, when it turns yellow. Overcooking has the same effect as alkali in bringing out the yellow color in onions and cabbage."

"The yellow pigment found in carrots, squash, pumpkin, and rutabagas is called carotinoid. It is slightly soluble in water and is not affected by acid or alkali. Because it is so stable it needs special attention in cooking."

The photograph featured here suggests a most colorful and attractive arrangements of vegetables. Here are recipes for their preparation.

Buttered Zucchini—One of the most delicious ways to cook zucchini squash is to smother it in butter. Wash the zucchini, cut off the ends and any blemishes but do not peel; slice into ¼ to ½ inch slices. Melt some butter in a deep skillet, add the zucchini slices, stir to coat them well for a few minutes, cover tightly, adjust heat so that it is moderate and steam in this way a very short time, just until the squash is tender but still crisp.

Stuffed Onions with Cheese Sauce

Ingredients: 6 large onions, 1 cup ground leftover meat, ½ teaspoon salt, Dash freshly ground pepper, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup shredded American cheese.

Method: Peel onions and boil in a small amount of salted water only until partially tender. Drain and remove center of onions carefully with a knife. Chop centers with meat, season with the ¼ teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper and stuff onions with this mixture. Place in a shallow baking dish, dot with butter and add a little water. Bake in a very slow (300 F.) oven for 20 minutes. Meanwhile make cheese sauce by melting the 4 tablespoons of butter in a saucepan over low heat; blend in flour. Remove from heat and add milk slowly, stirring until smooth after each addition. Return to moderate heat and stir constantly until sauce bubbles and thickens. Remove from heat, add salt and cheese and stir vigorously so hot sauce will melt cheese. Serve over stuffed onions. Makes 6 servings.

Celery Broiled Tomatoes

Ingredients: 6 small tomatoes, 3 tablespoons minced celery, 3 tablespoons melted butter, ¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs, salt, freshly ground pepper.

Method: Wash tomatoes and cut slice from stem end. Mix together minced celery, butter and crumbs. Place tomatoes under broiler about six inches from source of heat. Cook about 20 minutes or until tomatoes are done. Makes 6 servings.

VEGETABLE SYMPHONY . . . Tomatoes, onions, squash.

Here Are Simple, Easy-To Fix Desserts

Peach Up-Side-Down Cake

1 No. 2½ can cling peach halves
3 tablespoon brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter or oleo
¼ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup drained peach syrup
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Drain peaches well, reserving ½ cup of the syrup for the cake batter. Place peach halves, cut side down in 2-inch deep layer or square cake pan, 8 inches in diameter; sprinkle with the brown sugar and dot with butter. Cream shortening with orange rind, add sugar gradually, creaming thoroughly. Add egg, mix well. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; sift about ⅓ of the flour mixture into the creamed mixture and mix well; stir in about ½ of the peach syrup; add the remainder of the flour and syrup alternately, stirring between each addition to make a smooth mixture. Pour on top of peach halves. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 50 minutes. Let stand on cake rack about five minutes, then turn out on serving plate. Yield: eight servings.

Grapefruit Dessert Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup canned cold grapefruit juice
1¼ cups canned hot grapefruit juice
¼ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup chopped pecans
2 cups diced grapefruit sections, well drained

Soften gelatine in cold grapefruit juice. Add hot grapefruit juice, sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in celery, pecans and grapefruit sections. Turn into large or individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and serve with fruit French dressing. Yield: six servings.

Buffets Can Be Brightened By Salmon Aspic Main Dish

Buffet tables are never handsomer and never more popular than during the warm-days of summer when the feast may be served on terrace or porch. Against a background of garden, lawn or swimming pool, al fresco meals have undeniable charm and gayety whether the meal be simple or elaborate.

The prime essential to a good buffet supper or luncheon is a main dish salad which lives up to the gayety of its setting. It should be as colorful and pleasing to the eye as summer gardens. And it should be as satisfying and nourishing as the heavier main dishes of winter.

This two-fold function of beauty and satisfaction to the appetite is ably performed by a Salmon Aspic Salad which is spectacularly handsome—and spectacularly good to eat!

With a cool salmon aspic ring at the center, and red tomato wedges and crisp cucumber slices in lettuce cups around it—this salad combination appeals so much to the artist as the connoisseur. Part of its great appeal to the appetite is the mayonnaise heaped in the center of the aspic ring with a lavish hand. Commercial mayonnaise with pure lemon juice included in its appetite-teasing ingredients is available on market-places everywhere. It lends piquancy and new charm to almost any salad combination.

To show off this salad main dish to best advantage, it should be served on a chop plate of a color contrasting with the symphony of salmon, aspic, tomatoes and cucumbers. An iced or hot beverage, small hot rolls, with perhaps a simple dessert, complete a luncheon or supper menu to delight any guests. One of the great charms of this salad platter from the hostess' standpoint is that its chief makings can be kept right on hand for spur-of-the-moment parties — salmon the pantry shelf and mayonnaise in the refrigerator.

Salmon Aspic Salad

1 tablespoon gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 1 cup hot water, ¼ cup mild vinegar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 1-lb. can red salmon, boned, coarsely flaked, peeled tomato wedges, scored sliced cucumbers, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Soften the gelatin in the cold water. Dissolve it in the hot water. Cool. Add the vinegar, lemon juice and salt. When the mixture begins to thicken, fold in the salmon. Pour into a 6½-inch ring mold and chill until firm.

Unmold the salmon aspic on a chop plate. Fill the center with small lettuce leaves, and surround the mold with four nests of lettuce, each filled with tomato wedges and scored cucumber slices. Fill the center of the mold with mayonnaise.

Meal Planning Can Be Fun

For the inexperienced cook, menu planning and food preparation often are the most difficult tasks in running a smooth household.

Meal planning is a game that's fun to play if you use imagination. Plan menus for a week or at least several days in advance, but make them elastic enough to include unexpected leftovers. For good nutrition in those three squares a day, include the following foods:

Meat — 1 or more servings (or poultry or fish)

Eggs — 1 (or at least 3 or 4 a week)

Milk — 1 pint to 1 quart (cheese may be used for part of milk)

Citrus Fods — 1 serving orange, grapefruit or tomatoes.

Fruits — 1 serving (at least) raw or cooked.

Vegetables — 1 or more servings green, yellow or leafy (1 serving potato — 1 raw vegetable)

In addition, serve daily a whole grain cereal, bread, fats on and in foods, and sweets in moderation.

It's important to plan well balanced meals but it's also important to make those meals appetizing, attractive and varied. In planning food combinations, keep these points in mind:

1. Color — Plan attractive color combinations; they attract the eye and stimulate digestive juices.

2. Flavor—Serve bland foods with sweet and acid foods; they complement each other's flavors.

3. Texture — Strive to have a contrast of textures; some soft and crisp foods, some hard and chewy.

4. Temperature — Serve hot foods hot and cold ones cold. Serve both in a meal.

5. Cooked or raw foods — Include both in the menu, if possible.

Plan to serve your family those meat cuts which best fit your pocketbook and family size. If there are only two in the family, you'll find chops and steaks ideal, also ground meat patties, liver, pork sausage links and patties, frankfurters, canned meats and cold cuts.

If you hanker for ham, a thick slice to bake or broil is a better investment than a half ham which would last too many days.

Wait until you have guests before serving a roast. Instead of a roast, why not buy a slice of round steak to make Swiss steak?

If you're an inexperienced cook or just a new bride, it will save last minute worry pangs if you plan a basic meal for entertaining. Then practice cooking this meal for friend husband.

A brief summary of meat cooking terms may be helpful to the new bride.

Roast: To cook in the oven uncovered, without added moisture. A temperature of 325 degrees F. for all roasting. The fat side of the roast should be on top when meat goes into the oven. As the meat roasts, the fat melts and runs down over the meat, making basting unnecessary. Pork, lamb and veal roasts are cooked by this method, also rib roast of beef.

Broil: To cook by direct heat under a broiler unit. For broiling, buy the small tender cuts such as chops and steaks of beef and lamb, ham slices, bacon, pork sausage, and ground meat patties.

Pan Broil: Cook in a skillet that is heated to sizzling temperature. The meat is put on the hot, ungreased surface and seared quickly on both sides. The heat is reduced and the meat allowed to cook slowly, uncovered, until desired doneness. (Game cuts as for broiling.)

Braise: A method of moist heat cookery. Meat is browned in a little hot fat, then cooked slowly in a covered utensil with a small amount of added liquid. Cook semi-tender or less tender cuts of meat by this method: Pot roasts, swiss steaks, pork chops or pork steaks, veal chops and steaks, lamb neck slices, beef short ribs, etc.

Stew or simmer: Cooking in liquid just below boiling point. The meat may or may not be browned first. Soups and stews are cooked by this method.

Clergy Will Plan Leadership School

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Ministerial Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday at 10 a. m. at the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Watson E. Holley, pastor of First Methodist Church and president of the association, will preside.

Final plans will be completed for the Interdenominational Leadership Training School for Frostburg and vicinity which will be held at the First Methodist Church on October 27-29 and November 3-5.

Mt. Savage Briefs And Personals

The men of St. Patrick's Catholic Church will hold a social in St. Patrick's Hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Rosella Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Farrell and Angus McAtee are attending the golden wedding anniversary of their brother and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McAtee, in McKeesport, Pa.

Miss Marion Bevans, Miss Mary Murray, Miss Margaret Winner, Miss Louise Barcord, Miss Mary Witt, Mrs. Evelyn Poland and Mrs. Richard Rizer are attending the state teachers' meeting in Baltimore.

FROSTBURG PERSONALS

Marshall Caton, employed at the Cobey Engle meat market, suffered a severe laceration of the left hand Wednesday when he caught his hand in a meat slicer. The cut was dressed in the office of a local physician.

Miss Mildred Hughes and Miss Ruth Shaw, this city; Mrs. Ruth Groves and Miss Dorothy Myers, Cumberland, and Miss Mary Heyser, Pittsburgh, are home after spending two weeks in Miami, Fla., and Havana, Cuba.

Hanson Brown, an aged resident, continues seriously ill at his home in the Engle Apartments.

Mrs. Harry Sperry, Spring Street, is patient in Miners' Hospital.

Mrs. Henry Baker is a patient in Miners' Hospital where she underwent a major operation Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Leber, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCunn and Mrs. Charles Ressinger, Wrightsville, Pa., have returned after visiting Mrs. Irene Ellwein, East Main Street.

Missionary To Speak In Frostburg Sunday

FROSTBURG—Rev. Calvin H. Hazlett, a Presbyterian missionary and executive secretary of the North India Synodical Board of the United Church of North India, will speak at First Presbyterian Church, Broadway, Sunday, at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Hazlett has had 31 years of experience in educational and administrative work in India. He is a graduate of Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh. For a short time he served as assistant to the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Carnegie, Pennsylvania.

The state of Kansas adopted "Home on the Range" as its official state song.

Plan Meeting

At the meeting of the East Side Parent-Teacher Association earlier in the week it was decided to have the next meeting November 9, because of Election Day, and William Deremer named Mrs. Fern Kenney, Mrs. Lucille Dicken, Mrs. Edna Baker and Mrs. A. E. Stamp to take charge of the program.

Miss Agnes Carroll, principal, spoke on the new insurance plan in the public schools. The $5 attendance award was won by Mrs. Rosalie Shobe's room. A social followed with Mrs. Genevieve Diehl in charge of refreshments.

Completes Training

FROSTBURG—S-1C William F. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, Centre Street, is home for a 12-day furlough after completing basic training at Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. Upon his return there he will enter the school of pharmacy at the center.

From 1791 to 1867 Ontario was called Upper Canada.

Market Chalks Up Another Gain In Its October Recovery Drive

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP) — The stock market chalked up another gain in its October recovery drive today.

The advance carried the general price level to a high since early September when quotations dropped sharply for two days running.

The market ran into a little trouble in the last half hour or so of business. Demand dwindled and supporting bids were lowered. As a result final prices in numerous cases were below the best levels of the day although still up fractions to around two points.

Foreign developments—or, rather, the absence of them—again played an important part in determining market policy. Many observers believed that the recess of the United Nations Security Council might give Russia a chance to change its mind about the Berlin blockade.

Steels, oils and selected rails were well in front part of the day and these groups were among those which ran into late opposition. United States Steel, for instance, ended unchanged at 80¾ after moving along at a higher price most of the day.

Goodyear Tire was one of the star performers, reaching a new high for the year with a two-point gain at 48⅝.

Chicago and Northwestern preferred added 1⅜ at 46⅜ and J. P. Stevens nearly a point to 30.

Others ahead included American Distillers at 35½, Kansas City Southern 43½, Continental Oil 59⅞, Amerada Petroleum 101⅜, Phillips Petroleum 65⅛, Barber Oil 46½, Youngstown Sheet 83, General Motors 62⅝, Montgomery Ward 56½, Schenley 29¼, Seaboard Air Line 24, Nickel Plate preferred 141 and common 87, Consolidated Natural Gas 45, American Smelting 59⅝, Radio Corporation 12, International Paper 59⅛, and Twentieth Century-Fox 19⅝.

White Sewing Machine lost 1¼ at 19¾.

Also marked down were American Telephone, Republic Steel, Packard, Douglas Aircraft, Dow Chemical, Pennsylvania Railroad, and Transcontinental and Western Air.

The bond market mustered a little pep late in the session and favorite railroad loans advanced around a point.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Corfu Still Is Peaceful Island

CORFU — (AP) — Although this mountainous island lies only two miles off the Albanian coast, Communist guerrillas have failed to penetrate its outward tranquillity. Corfu has been overrun by French, Russians, Turks, British and Italians but thus far has escaped Communism.

Life on Corfu, known to be the "playground of kings", is peaceful and serene. Its 120,000 inhabitants cultivate farmlands which spill over densely forested mountainsides. Some of Greece's best olives, grapes, melons, olive oil and wine are produced on this fertile 40 mile long island in the Ionian sea.

The abundance of food and the lack of fear makes the Corfiotes entirely different from their mainland brothers. Mainland Greeks have been forced by the guerrilla war to abandon festivities, but Corfiotes joyously celebrate their religious feasts. While the Greek character of the island is preserved by the Orthodox religion, and the native Greek customs, Corfu reflects the influence of its many occupants. Constructed by the Venetians centuries ago, the island's capital, Corfu, still bears the same classic architectural form.

Still sturdy and erect are three forts built by the Venetians to ward off westward advancing Turks. One of the forts in which the British later installed army barracks now serves as a military training school. The Italians tried to make Corfu a part of the new Roman empire by incorporating the island into Italy after the fall of Greece in the last war. With the Italian surrender in 1943, the Germans bombed Corfu. Most of the town was destroyed. The Venetian library which contained the finest collection of Venetian manuscripts and books in the world, was completely destroyed. Heaps of unremoved rubble still indicate the extent of the disaster.

Reds Furnish Basis For Berlin Jokes

BERLIN—(AP)—The surest — if grimmest — jokes in Berlin this summer of 1948 deal with "technical difficulties". Sometimes all you have to do is utter those two words to send your audience off into gales of laughter.

The Russians originated this phrase when their highest officials, straight-facedly and repeatedly, claimed that "technical difficulties" were responsible for their closing of Berlin's lifeline railroad to Western Germany. Closing of this road inaugurated the land blockade of western Berlin, shut off supplies for Germans and Allied personnel and forced travel and freight to take to the air.

The Russians, apparently unabashed at the jibes hurled at them, seem to be finding something "more serious than at first foreseen" wrong with this railroad line every week. Once it's the rails, then it's the rotting ties and another time it's the signal system. Meanwhile Berlin jokes and laughs—though somewhat wryly. When an American shows up for work late these days because of a hangover or late card game, he blames it on "technical difficulties."

The custom of presenting gloves to funeral pallbearers is a survival of an ancient use of gloves as a symbol of high position.

The area along the Boise river adjacent to Idaho's capital city, Boise, was once a favorite fur-trapping ground.

Just Between Us

Gal Who Delays Date With Her Primping Spoils Evening

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nanvy: The only trouble with my romance is that my girl never is on time. I tell her I'll be over about 7, and at 8 she finally is ready. I get along well with her mother and father fortunately, but sitting around and waiting for at least a half hour every time is beginning to make me mad. I asked her once to surprise me by being ready on time, and that night she was only 20 minutes late. What can I do to cure her of this habit? We arrive late at parties and when we have a double date, they get tired of waiting for us."

Nancy Mottram

(A) Don't ask for any "surprises," but tell her frankly she's being very inconsiderate, and if you can be ready and calling for her on time, she owes the same courtesy to you. It isn't fair to the rest of the crowd who spend a large chunk of the evening waiting for you and your date. If she'd figure out how long it takes her to dress, and would start that many minutes before you arrive, everyone would be in a better humor.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I have a problem which is causing a rift between my best friend and myself. She's popular and has quite a few dates, but when she can't go out, the boy she's dating at the time always calls me. We usually go to the movies or swimming, and though it's all just friendship, she's always furious about it. I don't want to be on bad terms with her, but I can't see why she objects to these dates. What do you think I should do?"

(A) Her anger is natural. Eventually, this will break up your friendship. Instead of being a "substitute date" for her when she can't go out, why don't you begin going with a lad of your own? It couldn't be too flattering to know that they're taking you out as second choice, and you're acquiring her ill will to boot. Things would definitely improve if you found someone else to date and stopped seeing the boys she's fond of.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: A fellow I see every day often goes out of his way to say hello, but he never pays any more attention to me. I think he's nice and I'd like to see more of him. How do I go about it?"

(A) Leave the first move to him. Help the cause along by being friendly and greeting him with a smile and a word or two, but he'll have to get over this shyness by himself. In time he'll work up courage to stop and talk, and asking for a date in the next step.

Miss Mottram cannot answer all letters personally, but the most important ones will be answered in her column.

(Copyright 1948, General Features Corp.)

More than 11,526 linear yards of cloth were woven in the United States during 1946, the last full year for which accurate statistics are yet available.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Will alcohol make a man unfaithful?

Answer: Not all by itself. A person who is intoxicated may become confused as to his whereabouts or the identity of those around him—for example, so as to attack someone against whom he has no real grievance. But the impulses which he gives way to are the same he has, but won't express, when he is sober. A desire to be unfaithful—or to find a woman who will treat him more indulgently than he believes his wife does—might unconsciously inspire a man to drink to kill his inhibitions, but liquor cannot create such a desire.

Does a would-be suicide know his real motives?

Answer: No, report three members of the Chicago Psychiatric Institute, after an intensive study of 100 men and women who survived attempted self-destruction. The reasons such people give—frustrated love, for instance—are superficial and misleading, even though they consciously believe them. The most frequent cause of suicide is "a deep sense of guilt, with an unquestionable penchant for self-punishment," often going to the point of severe mental illness. But many young people make suicide attempts to punish those who have been unkind to them.

Should babies be weaned "by rule"?

Answer: No, says Dr. Benjamin Spock, eminent child psychiatrist. Most so-called naughtiness in little children grows out of a sense of insecurity that centers around feeding problems. A child who is not fed when he's hungry, or is forced to give up his familiar foods for strange ones too abruptly, may become hostile—and even remain so ever after. It's much more important that a child begin life with a sense of being loved and secure than that his development should follow any rigid, pre-determined schedule.

RELIEF AT LAST For Your COUGH

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

NEWS FROM THE TRI-STATE AREA

Moorefield To Be Subject Of First Total Community Survey In Nation

American University To Undertake Study

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—A total survey of Moorefield will be made by American University, Washington, as a result of a request made by the Moorefield Town Council in meeting Tuesday night. This will be the first time in history that a total survey of any community has been made.

Paul P. Douglas, president of American University, Austin Van der Slice, dean of the School of Social Sciences and Public Affairs; Professor Hugo Schultz, of the College of Arts and Sciences, Professor Arnold Green, department sociologist, and Professor Muriel Muir, all of American University, met with a community committee Thursday night at the Presbyterian church and explained the proposed survey.

Surveys have been made in various communities in the United States on schools, police departments, housing and other departments of community government but never before has a total survey of a community been made.

Factual Analysis

The total survey includes a general exhaustive factual analysis of a community as compared with the accepted standards for the various departments in civic government.

The survey will include a complete analysis of schools, transportation, streets, water system, utilities, telephone service, churches, banking facilities, newspaper service, housing, sanitation, health standards, tax structure, economic resources and all other divisions of community life.

The cost of the entire project will be borne by special foundation grants for American University and is estimated at a minimum of $30,000.

The survey will take a year to complete and will be made by the university to perfect the technique of making surveys of this kind. The university is interested in keeping the professors in the sociology department abreast of new techniques in that field.

Graduate and advanced students will make the survey in order to gain field experience. It is said to be probable that text books for community surveys in the future will be based on the results of Moorefield survey.

Follows Pastor's Request

When the survey is completed the facts will be given to the community to be used in any way they desire. The decision to survey Moorefield grew out of a request by Rev. Charles Kernan to West Virginia University. University officials recommended American University.

The university officials were seeking a community for the test survey when Rev. Kernan's request came in and Moorefield was selected.

All the details for the survey were completed at the Thursday night meeting and the community committee was assured the project as soon as an official request was made by the governing body of the town.

The final step was taken Tuesday night when the Town Council made an official request.

Prior-Hopkins Wedding Tomorrow

MT. SAVAGE—Miss Eileen Hopkins, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Larkin Hopkins and the late William Hopkins, will become the bride of Raymond Joseph Prior at the Immaculate Conception Cathedral in Baltimore Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The ceremony will be performed by her brother, Rev. George Hopkins, assistant chancellor of the Diocese, assisted by her uncle, Rev. George Larkin, pastor of Shrine of the Little Flower.

Miss Hopkins is a native of Mt. Savage.

A reception at Hotel Stafford will follow the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meade are in Baltimore to attend the wedding.

McCoole P-TA Plans Program For School Year

Three Objectives Approved By Group

KEYSER—The first meeting of the McCoole Parent-Teachers Association for the present school term was held a recent evening at McCoole School. Benjamin Sands, president, presided at the meeting which opened with the flag salute, followed by roll call.

Committees appointed for the year follow: Health, Mrs. Alvin Pearce, chairman, Mrs. Albert Kohne, Mrs. De Lilo and Mrs. Chicchetto; ways and means, Mrs. Tichnell, chairman, Mrs. Frances Riggleman and Mrs. Daugherty; program, Mrs. Kathryn Yokum, chairman, Mrs. Donald Cole and Miss Whitworth; hospitality, Mrs. Minnie Walker, chairman, Mrs. Bodkin, Mrs. Homer Ambrose, Mrs. Wills and Mrs. Gilbert VanPelt; P-TA project, Earl Walker, chairman, J. L. Creasy, Leroy House and H. Kile; publicity, Mrs. Kenneth Cole; and membership, home room mothers.

Home room mothers will be: Miss Whitworth's room, Mrs. Nellie Rexroad and Mrs. Chucci; Miss Lynch's room, Mrs. Alvin Pearce and Mrs. Louise Kile; Miss Welsh's room, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. De Lilo; Mrs. Wills's room, Mrs. Gilbert VanPelt and Mrs. Frances Riggleman; Miss Biggs' room, Mrs. Donald Cole and Mrs. Tichnell.

It was decided to vote at the next meeting on a change in the by-laws to change the meeting date from the first Thursday in each month to the first Wednesday of each month.

Miss Welsh's room received the banner and $2.50 to purchase a library book for having the highest number of parents present.

Three objectives chosen by the P-TA for the year were to donate $25 for library books; $25 for play ground equipment and $30 for film strip.

A talk on "Fire Prevention" was given by William Miller, a member of the Vigilant Reel and Hose Company of Keyser.

A social hour followed the meeting.

Benefit Sale To Be Continued

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — The Harvest Moon Community Sale for the benefit of the Wardensville War Memorial Building will be continued Saturday night beginning at 7 p. m.

The sale began last Saturday night and more than $500 was collected. All items at the sale have been donated and the proceeds go to the building fund. At last week's sale a deep freeze unit, white ducks, pumpkins, kitchen sinks, clothing and canned goods were sold.

Holds Dutch Treat

KEYSER—The Ladies Auxiliary of Vigilant Reel and Hose Company were hosts recently at a "Dutch Treat" at the fire company's club rooms, South Mineral Street. Guests were members of the fire company and their wives.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held Tuesday night, October 12, at the club rooms, when heart sisters for the past year will be revealed. Heart sisters for this year will also be drawn. Refreshments will be served.

WARREN AND REVERCOMB—Governor Earl Warren of California, GOP vice presidential candidate, waves a campaign greeting to a Charleston, W. Va., crowd Tuesday flanked by Senator Chapman Revercomb, Charleston Republican battling for re-election without the avowed support of the head of his ticket, presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Dewey and Revercomb have differed over provisions of the displaced persons legislation. (AP Photo).

12 Mineral-Hampshire Youths Take Tests

KEYSER—Twelve Mineral and Hampshire County draft registrants left Tuesday for Martinsburg where they will be given their pre-induction physicals, Mrs. Eileen Stafford, clerk of the board, said yesterday.

The registrants, all single-non-veterans, were Clarence Edward Reed, Jr., Elk Garden; Herbert David Pownell, Keyser; Harold Galen Gray, High View; John Glendon Holliday, Yellow Springs; Thomas George Shears, Rade; Herbert Jones Wagoner, Springfield; John Howard Tressler, Shaw; Eldred Lawson Biggs, Ridgeley; Albert Jones Moreland, Levels; Charles Junior Spencer, Keyser; Erman Paul Hayes and Clifton Saul Kease, both of Keyser.

Examination calls for five men October 11 and five October 13 have also been received, Mrs. Stafford said.

Following completion of examinations, the men will return to their holmes to await their call to service.

To Mark Anniversary

BARTON—Barton Post No. 189, American Legion, will observe its second anniversary tonight with open house starting at 8 o'clock.

Barton Citizens Band will open the ceremony with a concert and state and district officers will attend.

Refreshments will be served, the committee in charge stated, and the public is invited to attend.

The home, located at the corner of Hall and North Railroad Street, has been recently remodeled.

Extension Projects To Be Discussed

HYNDMAN, Pa.—Adult group meetings and projects of interest to women in this area will be discussed at a meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Howard Cook, Route 1.

Miss Crystal Summers, home economics representative, will explain the program, which will be part of co-operative extension work being done throughout the state in agriculture and home economics.

Arrangements for Miss Summers to attend the meeting were made by L. R. Mollenauer, Bedford County agent.

Shaw Youth Acquitted Of Tampering Charge

KEYSER—Frank Brown, 20, Shaw, was found not guilty of tampering with two automobiles in Shaw at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle yesterday.

The Shaw youth was the object of an intensive search last week by Sheriff James A. Dixon and State Trooper W. F. Bowley when residents of the Shaw Community reported Shaw was armed with a butcher knife. Brown eluded the officers on several occasions by going into the woods near his home. He surrendered to Sheriff Dixon Friday.

Miss Kuykendall Wed To Randolph Wolfe

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Miss Leymone Kuykendall and Randolph Wolfe were married Saturday, October 2 in Cumberland by Rev. Gordon A. Jones, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church. The single ring ceremony was performed in the parsonage.

Mrs. Wolfe wore an aqua street length dress with a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Kuykendall and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Price Wolfe, both of the South Fork section.

After spending the weekend at the home of the bride's parents, they will make their home with Mr. Wolfe's parents.

Nazarene Church Of Frostburg To Mark Anniversary

Special Services Planned Sunday

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Church of the Nazarene will observe the 40th anniversary of the denomination with special services Sunday, October 10. Holy Communion will be observed at the morning service and Rev. John Wesley Maybury, pastor, will preach on the topic "Our Heritage." The sermon topic Sunday evening will be "Looking Ahead."

Rev. Mr. Maybury is a son of the late John T. Maybury, who was the second district superintendent of the combined Washington-Philadelphia district from 1910 to 1929.

The Frostburg church, which as a communicant membership of 66, an attending congregation of an average of 75 and a Sunday School of 100 pupils, was established here in 1937 and is occupying a spacious church built in 1940.

The groups comprising the governing body of the local church are trustees, John Weslow, chairman; George Ketterman, George Lashbaugh and William Capel; stewards, Mrs. Martha Villa, chairman; Mrs. Anna Lavin, Miss Catherine Ketterman and Mrs. Marie Gomer; president of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, Mrs. Minnie Lashbaugh; president of the Nazarene Young Peoples Society, Mrs. Minnie Weslow and superintendent of the Sunday School, Mrs. Lottie Loar.

HYNDMAN PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick and sons, John Jr. and Dennis, and the former's mother, a resident of Cumberland, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans.

Mrs. Pearl Polling, Mrs. Ronald Underdunk and her daughter, Holly, and Mr. and Mrs. Devon Menges and their daughter, Judy, Cumberland, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Menges and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Beal.

Charles Taylor, Trenton, N. J., visited his wife at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Emerick.

Miss Elizabeth Shroyer, Saxton, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shroyer.

Rev. and Mrs. Roscoe Hall are visiting relatives in Bala, Kansas.

Mrs. Nora Brown, Bedford, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. David Rees.

CRASH CAR—Shown above is the car of Prof. J. Stanley Hunter, head of the industrial arts department at Beall High School, in which one Beall teacher was seriously injured and Hunter and his wife slightly hurt. Miss Ina K. Spitznas, English teacher at the Frostburg school, was admitted to Memorial Hospital with fractures of both legs. Hunter and his wife sustained minor lacerations of the face and Miss Gertrude Williams, history teacher at the school, was unhurt. The accident occurred near Flintstone yesterday morning while the teachers were on their way to Baltimore for a state teachers' conference. (Story on Page 32).

TRI-STATE DEATHS

MRS. ALLEN RITES

FROSTBURG — A funeral mass for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Allen, 66, wife of William T. Allen, Sr., Eckhart Mines, who died Wednesday night, will be conducted Saturday at 9 a. m. in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John E. Wolz, 215 Valley Street.

SMITH RITES

LONACONING—A funeral service for Thomas Smith, 67, a native of Scotland and former resident of Lonaconing, will be held today at 2 p. m. at the Eichhorn residence.

Interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. Rev. C. H. Goshorn, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will officiate.

Mr. Smith died Tuesday at Struthers, Ohio, at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Rankin.

ABRAHAM L. HAYES

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.,—Abraham L. Hayes, 82, lifelong resident of Cranesville, died Monday in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Virgie May, White Oak; Mrs. Maude Teets, Lake Ford, and Mrs. Lula Teets, Cranesville, and a son, Asa Hayes, Lake Ford.

MRS. NINA R. DAVIS

WESTERNPORT — Mrs. Nina R. Davis, 60, wife of Porter R. Davis, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at her home, 111 Spruce Street, Westernport, following a heart attack. She had been in failing health for six years.

She was a daughter of the late Philip S. and Sarah E. Garrels Hartman and a native of Rockingham County, Va., but had been a resident of the Tri-Towns for the past 40 years.

Mrs. Davis was a member of Trinity Methodist Church, Piedmont.

Surviving are her husband and three sons, Leo, Bloomington; Clyde, Piedmont, and Richard, Westernport. Another son, Raymond P. Davis, was killed in action in the Batle of the Bulge in December, 1944.

One brother, Ernest E. Hartman, Akron, and five grandchildren, also survive.

A funeral service will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the home by Rev. O. C. Mitchell, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church. Burial will be in Philos Cemetery.

MRS. KEFAUVER RITES

MT. SAVAGE — A funeral service for Mrs. Inez Kefauver, wife of J. Orville Kefauver, who died Wednesday night at her home on Mt. Savage Road, will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the home.

Rev. Lee H. Richcreek, pastor of Mt. Savage Methodist Church, and Rev. Harris M. Waters, pastor of Highland Avenue Methodist Church, Baltimore, will officiate.

Following the service, the body will be taken to Middletown for burial in Reformed Church Cemetery there.

Mrs. Kefauver was a member of Mt. Savage Methodist Church, a member of the church choir, financial secretary of the church and superintendent and teacher in the senior department of the Sunday school.

For a number of years, she was a delegate to the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church and was a member of the World Peace Commission of the conference. She was also a member of the official board of the church and of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

MRS. EDITH NAIR

Mrs. Edith R. Nair, 51, wife of Thomas Nair, Oakland, died at 11:35 a. m. yesterday in Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted two days ago.

OLIVER B. KIDWELL

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—Oliver Benjamin Kidwell, 66, local carpenter who died Saturday night at his home, 609 Buxton Street, was buried Tuesday in Mt. Union Cemetery. Services at Union Christian Church near Slainesville were conducted by Rev. J. A. Petterson, pastor, and Rev. J. A. Hofrichter, Jr.

Mr. Kidwell was born in Hampshire County, a son of the late B. A. and Sarah Ellen (Moreland) Kidwell.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Lona McDonald; a son, Oliver B. Kidwell, Jr., Cumberland; three daughters, Mrs. Ophal Abshire, Gerardstown, and Misses Anna Lee and Phyllis Kidwell, at home; two grandchildren; two brothers, Robert Kidwell, Paw Paw, and Osa Kidwell, Slainesville, and four sisters, Mrs. Lona Wolford, and Mrs. Elsie McBride, Cumberland, and Mrs. Ethel Allen and Mrs. Ida Hott, Paw Paw.

FROSTBURG—The official board of Welsh Baptist Memorial Church, Beall Street, is urging the attendance of all members of the congregation at the 11 o'clock morning service Sunday, when Rev. Karle Kauffman, Philadelphia, will preach a trial sermon. The church has been without a pastor since the retirement of Rev. W. D. Reese several months ago after serving the church for a period of 30 years.

Frostburg School Gets New Name

FROSTBURG — The name of Frostburg State Teachers' College Elementary School has been changed to the College Laboratory School, according to an official announcement made Wednesday night at a dinner meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at Big Savage Inn.

Dr. H. T. Bawden, principal, explained that the plan to change the name is in keeping with a nation-wide movement to give proper identification to a school when an educational program of more than training is employed. He cited that the word laboratory is applied because the purpose is not only to train and acquaint students with theory, but to put into practical application subjects taught in the class room.

Dr. Albert C. Cook, president of the association, gave the address of welcome and Miss Angela Brady, Sixth Grade critic teacher, was toastmistress.

The college president, Miss Lillian C. Compton, urged the group to exert every effort to stimulate interest in the community in the plan now under consideration for the appropraition of funds for the expansion and improvement of the college.

Wilson Poling outlined plans for a Cub Pack and solicited support of the parents for Scouting work in the school.

The musical part of the program was provided by Miss Margaret Jones, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Frances Lawler, pianist, and Dr. Cook, violinist. Mrs. Lawler also entertained with piano selections.

Plans for the dinner were made by a committee headed by Mrs. Donald Jeffries and Mrs. Joseph Kidwell.

Moorefield Lions To Protest Hike In Phone Rates

PSC Hearing Set For October 29

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—The Moorefield Lions Club will have representatives present at the Public Service Commission hearing in Romney Friday, October 29, to oppose a proposed rate increase for the Central Telephone Company.

The Moorefield civic group has joined with the Petersburg Kiwanis Club in opposing the rate increase at a hearing which will be requested for Petersburg. H. Gus Muntzing was named by President J. E. Matson as chairman of the committee to represent the club.

The civic groups are opposing the rate hike on the grounds that the service does not warrant the proposed increase. Also, spokesmen for the civic groups say, no attempt has been made by the telephone company to give service to the rural areas in any of the counties served by the phone company, despite the fact that such service had been promised several times in the past.

Ralph P. Welton, editor of the Grant County Press and representative of the Petersburg Kiwanis Club, spoke to the Moorefield club Monday night in a meeting at the Airport Inn, and asked the cooperation of the Moorefield civic group in opposing the proposed rate increase.

In the business meeting of the Lions T. J. Bergdoll was presented with a Key Member pin in recognition of securing members for the club.

The Glasses Committee of the club received authorization to fit all children in the county with glasses when recommended by the school teacher and the county health nurse. S. L. Dodd reported on the progress of the new poultry laboratory which will be erected in Moorefield for the use of the state Department of Agriculture.

MOOREFIELD WOMEN SEE ART EXHIBIT

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Miss Ella Bergdoll, chairman of the committee on fine arts of the Moorefield Woman's Club, presented an art exhibit at the home of Mrs. Charles Kernan Monday night.

The exhibit had been sent from Washington and consisted of prints of well-known early American painters whose work hangs in the National Art Gallery. Miss Bergdoll showed examples of the work of West, Copley, Stewart and Whistler among others and gave brief biographical outlines.

Mrs. Robert Halterman discussed a few other early painters, such as the Hudson River school, and brought her listeners up to date on American painters.

Miss Mae Gwen Matthews read two poems from "Club Women" which had been awarded prizes for excellence and Mrs. L. R. Grover presented a paper on "Music's Contribution to Our Way of Life." Mrs. Frank Troy, Jr., sang Schubert's "Serenade" and "Who Is Sylvia?"

Mrs. Courtney Pratt, president, reminded members that the eastern district meeting will be held at Harpers Ferry October 11. Any members planning to go must notify Mrs. Pratt this weekend.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Kernan, Mrs. Ida Feller, Mrs. Charles Shobe and Miss Nell Williams.

Welfare Worker Named

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Miss Norma Lee Piero, Martinsburg, was recently appointed child welfare worker for the Department of Public Assistance in Hardy and Hampshire counties.

Miss Piero, a graduate of Randolph-Macon College for Women, Lynchburg, Va., has done a year of graduate work in child psychology.

State President Addresses P-TA

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Mrs. Dale Thomas, Charleston, state president of Parent-Teachers Associations, was principal speaker at a school of instruction for Hardy County Parent - Teacher Associations in Moorefield last Friday.

In her afternoon talk Mrs. Thomas referred to the theme of all associations during the past year which was "Unfinished Business—the Child in the Future."

She listed many of the needs of schools — better buildings, more equipment, and others. Mrs. Thomas also said it is necessary to develop an understanding of the problems facing schools so that the public will become willing to pay for what is needed. Mrs. Thomas urged that all thinking parents and teachers vote to elect men and women who would consider children and their needs.

The day-long meeting was held in the Fire Hall with Mrs. B. J. McWhorter, president of the County Council of Parent Teachers, president. Mrs. C. D. Ellifrits, Mrs. R. H. Talbott, Jr., Denver Watring and Rev. Frank Rowley, all of Elkins, and state officers in the P-TA, also spoke.

Superintendent R. S. Dispanet spoke on "P-TA Work and the School Administration;" Miss Ruth Kessel, county health nurse, discussed "The P-TA and the Hardy County Health Program;" L. Wayne Wilson, teacher in the local high school, spoke on a "High School Health Program."

Two open forums were held during the day. In the morning Stanley P. Hawse led a panel discussion on fundamentals of parent-teacher work and in the afternoon, Mrs. McWhorter led one on best programs

Present at the meeting were representatives of the different Parent-Teacher Associations in Hardy County.

Church Service Is Cancelled Sunday

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Rev. Charles Kernan, pastor of Moorefield Presbyterian Church, has announced there will be no church service Sunday morning at his church.

He has requested all members of his congregation to accompany him to Duffey Memorial Church, where Rev. J. B. Dryfield will preach his first sermon.

Rev. Dryfield comes to Moorefield from Marianna Group of churches in the western part of the state.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Billy Rose

Did you ever hear of The Chump of the Century Club? Well, neither did I until a few midnights ago when a fellow told me about it over a mug of mocha at Lindy's.

"It's a very exclusive organization," he said, "and a man isn't eligible unless he can point to at least one earth-shaking blunder in his career."

"Well, then, I'm a cinch to get in," I said. "To begin with, I'm the gent who auditioned Mary Martin in Fort Worth and advised her to go home and tend to her dishes and diapers. I'm also the yahoo who let Abbott and Costello get away from him because he was too busy reading the scrapbooks where it says he's a smart showman."

"Those are minor errors," said my friend, "and I doubt whether they would impress the membership committee."

"Suppose I were to tell you I once passed up a chance to invest $500 and get $50,000 in return?"

"Now you're getting warm," said my coffee companion. "Such a story, properly documented, would entitle you to serious consideration—especially since your fondness for a buck, slow or supersonic, is hardly a secret."

"Well, here are the details," I said. "Back in 1932, a gentleman named Courtney Burr paid the only $500 he had in the world for a six-month option on a play. After thirty days of button-holing prospective backers, he added up and found he had raised the sum of $0.00.

"And so he decided to finance his production the hard way—without money. For openers, he fast-talked the owners of the boarded-up Lyceum Theatre into renting him the house on a when-and-if basis. Next, he persuaded two experienced Broadway hands, Dude Harris and Arthur Wright, to act as general manager and treasurer respectively. Then he signed up the necessary number of actors and let out a contract for the construction of the scenery.

"So far, so-so.

"Setback number one came quickly. The nasty old company which was building the set said it wouldn't deliver it unless it was paid for. 'No dough, no go, no show', was the elegant way the company put it.

"Fortunately, however, Burr's uncle strolled into the new theatre that afternoon for a bit of chit-chat with his nephew. When he left, he was $1,750 lighter.

"And so rehearsals began. But so did expenses. For one thing, a repair job had to be done on the cash register in case a customer showed up, and for another, the script called for the characters in the play to smoke a great many cigarettes. Worst of all, the box office phone was dead, and the hard-hearted telephone company refused to bring it to life unless a little matter of $67 was cleaned up.

As creditors began to nip at their heels, Courtney and his managers took refuge in the box office, and for days they chewed on their nails and very little else. And then one night, in desperation, Wright opened the old iron safe and began poking his can in the corners. 'Who knows,' he said. 'Maybe an absent-minded treasurer left an old buffalo nickel in it'.

"Suddenly a packet containing twenty large-sized dollar bills fell out of a compartment, together with a slip showing that the money was part of the proceeds of a show called 'The Ghost Breakers' which had closed nineteen years before.

"'It's not enough to pay the phone bill', said Harris, 'but it may keep us alive until we get the curtain up. What's the cheapest thing to eat?'

"'You can get onion sandwiches for a dime', said Burr. And so for the next few days, the Lyceum sported the most aromatic box office in town.

"Around this time, anyone could have bought a sizeable chunk of the show for $500—but nobody did. It was offered to Lee Shubert and Max Gordon, but these worthies didn't think it had a chance. And when Courtney Burr brought the script to my office, I was too bone-lazy to even read it.

"The morning the show was due to open, the sun broke through again. A wispy little geezer ambled into the lobby and announced he was interested in buying the cloakroom concession. Arthur Wright practically pulled him through the ticket window and extracted an advance payment of $150 from him. And with this windfall the entrepreneurs took care of the phone, the cigarette-starved actors and their own missmeal cramps.

"As you may have guessed, the show was called 'Sailor, Beware', and when it finally opened that night, it went off like a 16-inch gun in a hall bedroom. It ran over a year, coined money like the Chinese mint, and today, 16 years later, still makes itself an occasional C-note in summer stock.

"I understand that Courtney Burr has never gone near the Lyceum Theatre since the show closed. He says he can still smell the onions.

"And now," I said to my friend, "what do you think my chances are of getting into The Chump of the Century Club?"

"They're excellent," he said, "and we might even consider making you president. By the way, where can we contact Lee Shubert and Max Gordon."

The three local school's football teams will all see action tonight at Allegany High Campers play host to Hagerstown at 8 p. m. at Fort Hill stadium and both LaSalle and Fort Hill travel to distant pastures for engagements.

Fort Hill will go to Martinsburg, W. Va., for battle with the Martinsburg High Bulldogs, coached by John Cobourn, and the Explorers take to the road for their meeting with Johnstown Catholic High's Crimson Crushers in the Pennsylvania city. Both contests will get under way at 8 o'clock.

Old Rivalry Resumed

One of the oldest gridiron rivalries in the tri-state area will be resumed tonight when the undefeated, untied and unscored-upon Alcomen play host to the Maroon and Gray eleven from Washington County.

Coach Eddie Semler's outfit has been defeated in both of its contests to date, losing to Charlotte Hall, 20-6, and to Martinsburg, 7-6.

Allegany, winning easily in three games, has rolled up the impressive total of 119 points while not yielding a single tally to its opponents.

The series between the two schools which began in 1924 shows Coach Bob Pence's boys on the long end of a 13 to 9 edge with two contests ending in ties.

Last season an underrated Alco eleven almost upset a heavily favored Marron and Gray team before dropping a 33-20 decision.

Hagerstown also won in 1946 defeating the Pencemen by a decisive 38-0 count.

The usually rugged Semlermen have had a rough time getting into the scoring column so far this season and will be gunning for their first victory. Allegany has run roughshod over its opponents to date and will again be trying to keep its goal line uncrossed. Coach Pence says that the team is in fine shape and that Don Dicken, husky plunging back for the Campobello crew, may see plenty of action tonight.

Fort Hill High's high-geared machine expects no trouble from Martinsburg which has won only one of its three starts this year.

Bulldogs Lose Two

The Bulldogs lost to Roosevelt High of Washington D. C. in its opener by the score of 8-6 and bowed again to Waynesboro, Pa., 20-13 before edging Hagerstown.

The West Virginians have an almost entirely new squad with only two lettermen returning. They are Carl Tucker, a back, and end Bob Lamp.

The series between the two schools began in 1937 and the Bulldogs have won only one game. Three contests ended in tie scores and the Sentinels won seven.

Last season Fort Hill romped over the Cobournmen 32-7. The Scarlet and White team has won four straight games this year and will be seeking its 14th consecutive victory.

LaSalle will be meeting its toughest competition when it tackles Johnstown Catholic in Point Stadium at Johnstown although the Crimson Crusher has won only one of four games this season.

The Explorers will take a one won-two lost-one tied record into the game against its much heavier opponent. The Crusher line averages over 185 pounds.

Last season's battle between the two was cancelled by Father McCauley, principal of Johnstown Catholic, when a huge rainstorm made playing conditions impossible after game time.

The Crushers are coached by Joe Majer and have an excellent passing combination in Schultz and Siezak. With LaSalee's Mickey Clark throwing and Dick Leo on the receiving end an excellent aerial battle may be in store for the Pennsylvania fans.

Other Contests Carded

Other games tonight will find Thomas High invading the lair of the Parsons Panther and Franklin traveling to Greenbank for an afternoon contest.

Potomac Valley Conference frays slated for this afternoon find Ridgeley's Blackhawks meeting Keyser, upset loser to Beall High of Frostburg last week, and Moorefield's formidible eleven journeying to Romney to battle the undefeated Romney High School gridders.

In a college game tonight Potomac State's Catamounts go to Newport News (Va.) to meet Newport News Tech.

The Cumberland Amvets, local semi-pro outfit, travels to Frederick to meet the Frederick VFW at 8:30 p. m. and Sunday will play host to Uniontown here at 2:30 p. m. at Community Park.

Beall plays Berkeley Springs away Saturday afternoon.

Series Notes By Considine

By BOB CONSIDINE

BOSTON, Oct. 7 (INS)—A couple of fellows named Bearden and Bickford, who once must have had some misgivings over ever seeing another baseball game, or anything else, meet each other tomorrow in Cleveland before the biggest mob ever to see a world series game.

Henry Eugene Bearden, of Helena, Ark., who will pitch for the Indians, came very close to being blown to bits when a Jap torpedo broke the back of the Cruiser Helena. His life was despaired of for a time by the Navy's best doctors who patched him together. Now he's as good as ever.

Bickford underwent the appalling battle of Leyte and the fight for Manila.

Bob Lemon tied a semi-microscopic world series record today by making three put-outs. Want to make something of it?

The two games played in Boston were performed in what came closer to being a soundless vacuum than can be aptly described.

Of course the games themselves did not particularly lend themselves to madness in the grandstands. Johnny Sain's victory in the first contest was a thing of sheer negation and frustration.

Today there were 16 hits, and a fair percentage of them had the crackle and spit of modern baseknocks. But this, too, failed to shake the restrained Bostonians out of their glum and dour mood. This writer once cast libelous aspersions on the rowdy conduct of Cleveland fans, but he finds himself hoping tonight that the people out there will raise as much cheer as the law permits.

The crowd, and its mood, means a lot to the success of a world series. What transpired in Boston was, generally, a wake. But certainly not an Irish one, for these often have a vivaciousness which was sorely missed.

Speaker Outlines Program Of State Game Association

Large Group Attends Eckhart Banquet

Approximately 200 persons attended the Eckhart Square Circle Sportsmen's 12th annual dinner-meeting last night at Eckhart to hear speaker Edwin M. Berry outline the program for the state game and fish association.

It was the largest turnout ever to attend the Circle's annual affair.

Berry, assistant director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, spoke on the state's resources and outlined plans for state fish and game, game propagation areas and showed slides of Western Maryland flood control, soil erosion and mining during his speech.

Other speakers on the program included Bernard Gonder, former state senator and member of the state forest board, Dale Arner, regional game technican and member of Region No. 1 board, Fred Crowe, Frostburg, Joe Minke, regional game warden and George Walters, president of the Western Maryland Wild Life Federation.

Harold C. Carl, Frostburg, also showed moving pictures of wild life in this section.

Jury Recommends Athletes Receive Heart Examination

CHICAGO, Oct. (AP)—A recommendation that all athletes engaged in sports requiring violent physical effort be given heart tests in addition to regular physical examinations today was made by a coroner's jury investigating the death of Stanley Mauldin, star tackle with the Chicago Cardinals.

The jury returned a verdict of death by natural causes. Mauldin, father of a six year old son, died from coronary thrombosis, in the Cardinals' dressing room two hours after the Cardinals had defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 21-14, in the opening game of the schedule Sept. 25.

O'Connor Resignation Confirmed By Club

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (INS) — The reported resignation of Leslie O'Connor, vice president and general manager of the Chicago White Sox, was confirmed today by Charles Comiskey II, secretary and part-owner of the club.

Although young Comiskey would not declare himself on the choice of a successor to O'Connor, excellent reports persisted to the effect that the newcomer will be Frank Lane, the present president of the American Association.

Sportsmen Meet

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 7 (AP) — Delegates will register here Saturday morning for the annual fall meeting of the League of Maryland Sportsmen.

A banquet will be held Saturday night. The main business of the meeting will be conducted Sunday.

STOP BRAVES IN SECOND GAME—Lou Boudreau, Cleveland manager and shortstop (right), congratulates pitcher Bob Lemon in the Tribe's dressing room after the husky righthander defeated the Boston Braves 4-1 yesterday to even the World Series at one game each. Lemon hurled an eight-hitter and would have had a shutout except for an error by Joe Gordon, second baseman, and Boudreau sparked the Indians with two hits, scoring one run and driving in another.

Play-by-Play World Series

FIRST INNING INDIANS

Mitchell fouled off Spahn's first pitch, then raised a foul fly to Elliott. Clark went down swinging. Elliott made a neat pickup of Boudreau's slow dribbler and tossed him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIRST INNING BRAVES

Holmes tapped weakly back to the mound and Lemon threw him out. Dark hit to Gordon who fumbled the ball allowing the runner to reach first base safely on the error. Torgeson lined a single to right and Dark scampered to third. Elliott slammed a high pitch over Boudreau's head for a single scoring Dark with the first run of the game, and sending Torgeson to second. Manager Lou Boudreau motioned for a lefthander to start warming up in the Indians bullpen. Lemon picked Torgeson off second base with a lightning throw to Boudreau. Rickert struck out.

One run, two hits, one error, one left.

SECOND INNING INDIANS

Dark tossed out Gordon. Rickert trotted in and camped under Keltner's high fly. Doby hit into center and with a great burst of speed stretched it into a double. It was the first extra base hit of the series. Robinson walked. Mike McCormick raced into left center to haul down Hegan's long fly.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING BRAVES

Salkeld slashed a single over Robinson's head. Mike McCormick, attempting to sacrifice, popped a bunt into the hands of Lemon. Stanky drew a base on balls. Gordon made a nice stop of Spahn's grounder and threw him out as both runners advanced a base. Holmes rapped to Lemon who threw him out.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

THIRD INNING INDIANS

Lemon sliced an outside pitch to Rickert who made the catch. Rickert raced into foul territory to catch Mitchell's long hoist. Clark bounced out, Elliott to Torgeson.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING BRAVES

Dark shot a line single over Boudreau's head. Torgeson popped to Clark. Elliott went down swinging. Rickert tapped weakly back to Lemon who tossed him out.

FOURTH INNING INDIANS

Boudreau lined a double just inside the right field corner. Gordon looped a single to left scoring Boudreau with the Indians' first run of the series. Gordon took second on the throw to the plate. Keltner sent a long foul fly to Rickert. Red Barrett, a righthander, started warming up for Braves. Doby drilled a ground single into right field scoring Gordon to put the Indians ahead, 2-1, and raced to second on the throw-in. Robinson lined the first pitch to Rickert who made a nice running over the the shoulder catch. Hegan was given an intentional base on balls. Lemon hit back to Spahn who threw him out at first.

Two runs, three hits, no errors, two left.

FOURTH INNING BRAVES

Salkfeld walked on a full count. M. McCormick dropped a single into short left, Salkeld stopping at second. Stanky sacrificed the runners along Robinson to Gordon to covered first. Spahn hit back to Lemon and was thrown out as both runners held their bases. Holmes raised an easy fly to Mitchell in left.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

FIFTH INNING INDIANS

Mitchell lined a single over Dark's head. Clark sacrificed, Torgeson to Stanky who covered first. Boudreau slashed a single between Spahn's legs through the center of the diamond scoring Mitchell. Charley (Red) Barrett, a righthander, replaced Spahn on the mound for the Braves. Gordon flung his bat at a pitchout and grounded to Torgeson who stepped on first for the out as Boudreau took second. Keltner sent a soft grounder to Elliott who threw him out.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

FIFTH INNING BRAVES

Dark struck out. Torgeson chopped a high bouncer to Robinson who tossed to Lemon, covering first, for the out. Elliott fouled to Hegan.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING INDIANS

Doby struck out. Robinson lined a single into center field. Holmes made a spectacular catch in deep right field while running with his back to the plate on Hegan's long drive, and easily doubled Robinson off first with a peg to Torgeson.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING BRAVES

Rickert raised a high pop to Boudreau behind the mound. Salkeld drew his second straight pass. M. McCormick looped a Texas League single into center, Salkeld stopping at second. Phil Masi was sent in to run for Salkeld. Boudreau raced behind Keltner to grab Stanky's high bounder and flipped to Gordon forcing McCormick and the second baseman fired to Robinson for a double play.

SEVENTH INNING INDIANS

Masi went in to catch for the Braves. Lemon raised a high short fly to Holmes. Stanky tossed out Mitchell. Clark reached first safely when Dark allowed his easy grounder to roll up his chest for an error. Boudreau bounced a sharp grounder off Elliott's shins and was safe on the third baseman's error. Clark stopped at second. Elliott threw Gordon out at first.

No runs, no hits, two errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING BRAVES

Frank McCormick was sent in to bat for Barrett and struck out. Boudreau raced out into short left to haul in Holmes' high popup. Dark flied to Clark in short right.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING INDIANS

Nelson Potter, a righthander, went in to pitch for the Braves. Dark raced over near second base to make a nice stop of Keltner's roller and threw to Torgeson for the put-out. Doby struck out. Robinson hit sharply to Stanky who threw him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING BRAVES

Bob Kennedy replaced Clark in right field for the Indians. The official attendance was given as 39,633 paid. Torgeson slashed a single into center. Elliott rapped into a double play, Gordon to Boudreau to Robinson. Rickert bounced to Robinson who tossed to Lemon, covering first.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING INDIANS

Dark bobbled Hegan's grounder and was charged with an error. Lemon bounced out to Torgeson unassisted advancing Hegan to second. Stanky threw out Mitchell, Hegan moving to third. Kennedy's Texas Leaguer dropped untouched in short center for a single scoring Hegan. Elliott threw out Boudreau.

NINTH INNING BRAVES

Masi fouled to Hegan along the first base line. M. McCarmick went down swinging. Stanky lined a double over Boudreau's head into left center. Ray Sanders, a left-handed batter, went in to hit for Potter, and was thrown out by Lemon. It was Lemon's seventh assist and tenth chance of the game, one behind the record set by Nick Altrock of the Chicago White Sox in the 1906 series.

WCUM TO BROADCAST FORT HILL-BULLDOGS GRID GAME TONIGHT

The Fort Hill High School-Martinsburg High School football game at Martinsburg tonight will be broadcast by Cumberland's newest radio station, WCUM, it was announced last night.

The game will start promptly at 8 p. m. and the play-by-play account will be aired by Sammy Cozad and Charley Krapf, station sports announcers.

The actual account of the tilt will be heard from 8 until 9 p. m. before a CBS program comes on the air. The continuation of the contest will then be heard from 10 until 11 p. m. by recording.

Amvets Tie Bedford

The Cumberland Amvets, local semi-pro grid eleven, played a 7-7 tie last night with the Bedford Blue Devils at Bedford. The Blue Devils scored first in the initial period on a 35-yard drive and the Amvets knotted the count in the second quarter on Gene Basilio's sparkling 67-yard run.

Egan Hanover Cops Kentucky Futurity Race

Wins Both Heats In Trotting Classic

By KYLE VANCE

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 7 (AP)—Egan Hanover crowded into the picture for three-year-old trotting honors here today by winning in decisive straight heats the $52,670 Kentucky Futurity, coveted second gem in the grand circuit's twin trot crown.

Although third in the Hambletonian and denied the privilege of again meeting Demon Hanover, winner of the Goshen classic, the eager Egan nudged a select field with an ease that reflected his rapid improvement in recent weeks.

Demon Hanover wasn't kept eligible for the futurity, but the Saunders Mills star from Toledo, Ohio, could settle for the distinction of soundly beating Rollo, the hometown hope of Coldstream Stud that collected second money at Goshen. Rollo was a disappointing fourth in both heats of today's rich race.

Although the times of 2:04 and 2:03 2-5 were considerably off the "red mile" record for the Futurity, they were regarded as excellent for a track that has lost its best footing in overnight rains.

Egan Hanover's victory was worth $27,539. The rest of the record payoff for the 56th Futurity was divided six ways. Only the Kentucky Derby is richer in Kentucky racing.

Laurelite, a filly that hasn't won a race in two years of campaigning, grabbed down second money of $9,586 for owner K. D. Owen, Houston, Texas, by finishing third in the first whirl and second in the second.

Madison Hanover, second in the first heat and seventh in the second, collected $6,882 for owner William H. Strong, Jr., Brooklyn, N. Y., and Adeline Hanover, half of a Men White entry with Madison Hanover, claimed fourth money of $3,930 for T. Z. Zarnow, Pittsford, N. Y.

Egan Hanover stayed close off the pace in both miles, overtaking Madison Hanover with a stout-hearted stretch finish in the first heat and taking command at the three-quarters pole of the second heat.

Colts Meet 49ers In Sunday Battle

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 (AP)—It's San Francisco's turn to run into the dangerous Baltimore Colts Sunday and risk an undefeated record the Forty-Niners must maintain to keep apace of Cleveland in the All-America Football Conference.

Defending champion Cleveland got by Baltimore 14-10 Tuesday night. Since they are both in the Western Division, neither Cleveland nor San Francisco can afford to lose until the other does.

While it's a tough assignment for Baltimore to meet the only two undefeated Conference teams within five days, the Colts have an extra incentive to dump the 49ers.

San Francisco plastered the Colts with a 42-0 exhibition defeat this year, by far the worst beating taken by Baltimore. Revenge will be spurring the Colts as well as the need for a victory to insure their staying at the top of the Eastern Division.

The game brings together the Conference's team scoring leaders. The 49ers have racked up 217 points in winning six straight while the Colts scored 131 in winning three out of five.

Williams, Garcia Sign For Scrap

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7 (AP)—Lightweight champion Ike Williams and Buddy Garcia of Galveston, Tex., today were signed for a 10-round non-title fight at the arena Nov. 1.

Garcia made his first Philadelphia appearance last Monday night and pounded out a one-sided ten-round decision over Jimmy Collins.

Navy Gridders Head For Durham Clash

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 7 (AP) — Forty midshipmen went south tonight, hoping a change in climate would change their football luck.

Coach George Sauer herded his Navy football squad into buses at the academy for the first leg of a journey to Durham, N. C., where they tangle with Duke on Saturday.

If the outcome is difference, it will be Navy's first victory in eight games. The Middies fought Duke to a 14-14 stalemate in Baltimore last October, and the next week bumped off Cornell. Since then they've lost every one.

Sauer said he would start Bill Weir and Charley Cooper at guards instead of Ken Schiweck and Bob Hunt. Otherwise the kickoff eleven will be the same as that which battled vainly against California and Cornell earlier this season.

SERIES WEATHER

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7 (AP)—Rain, windy and cool weather were forecast for the third game of the world series here tomorrow by a U. S. weather bureau staffer, who took time out to bemoan her lack of success in buying elusive series ducats.

"We didn't rain the Indians out of one game this year," she complained, laughingly. "They should take better care of the weather bureau, because there is a good chance that tomorrow's game may be rained out."

Showers were forecast for tonight and tomorrow morning as a cold front moves into northern Ohio. occasional rain is expected during the afternoon when Cleveland and the Boston Braves battle to break their 1-1 deadlock.

Boudreau's Bat Sparks Rallies Against Spahn

Holmes' Catch Is Fielding Feature

By GAYLE TALBOT

BRAVES FIELD, Boston, Oct. 7 —(AP)—The favored Cleveland Indians came bouncing back behind righthander Bob Lemon today to clip the Boston Braves 4 to 1, and square the world series at a victory apiece as the play-offs moved west for the next three games.

Partly recovered from the batting palsy which afflicted them against shut-out Johnny Sain in yesterday's opener, the American League kings rocked southpaw Warren Spahn from the hill in a fourth and fifth inning uprising and went on to win easily behind Lemon's gilt-edged curving.

Scored 10 Shutouts

The Indian chucker, who delivered a total of 10 shut-outs for the Tribe in the regular season, would have blanked the National League champs but for an error by second baseman Joe Gordon which led to an unearned run in the first inning.

Lemon's performance was not quite as spectacular as Bobby Feller's losing two-hitter of the previous day. The Braves roughed him up for eight hits, the same number Cleveland got off Spahn, Charlie (Red) Barrett and Nelson Potter. But the Cleveland star was superb in the clutches and was aided by two fancy double plays.

Manager Lou Boudreau led the assault on Spahn.

Cleveland's handsome shortstop-manager started Spahn's downfall with a lead-off double in the fourth, scoring a moment later on Joe Gordon's line single to left with the first Indian run of the series.

He completed the rout of the lefthander an inning later when he slashed a single through the box into center field to score Dale Mitchell, who had singled and advanced on a sacrifice. That was all for Spahn, who chalked up 15 wins for Boston in the regular season.

Reliefs Hurl Well

Both Barrett and Potter hurled well in relief, allowing the Indians only two more widely spaced hits over the last four and two-third innings. But their efforts went for naught as Lemon, aided by a stiff east wind at his back, bore down and stranded the Braves in the tight spots.

The fourth Cleveland run in the ninth inning was tainted. Catcher Jim Hegan got on when Alvin Dark, Boston's rookie shortstop, made his second glaring bobble of the game, and continued around on a couple of infield outs and a blow to center by Bob Kennedy.

Bob Elliott, Boston third sacker, made his third error in two days to help put Barrett in a hole in the seventh frame, but the red head pulled out safely. Barrett, using a lot of slow stuff, pitched to 10 Indians and gave up only one hit before retiring for a pinch-hitter.

Doby Gets Two Hits

Larry Doby, Cleveland's crack young negro centerfielder, was the only member of the winning club besides Boudreau to connect more than once. He laced a double to deep left centerfield with two down in the second for the Indians' first safety off Spahn, and powered Joe Gordon across the plate with a fourth-inning single.

On his last two times up Doby fell a strikeout victim first to Barrett and then to Potter, missing third strikes by wide margins.

The same pick-off play which created a furore in the opening game worked like a clock today and helped pull Lemon out of a jam in the first inning.

Earl Torgeson was on second and Bob Elliott on first, one score already was across and only one was out when the Cleveland flinger whirled and whipped the ball to Boudreau to nip the runner.

Double Plays Help

Heartened by this break, Lemon whizzed a third strike past Marv Rickert to choke off the Boston rally. Never again did the Braves seriously threaten. They put two runners on both in the fourth and sixth frames on walks followed by singles, and Torgeson opened the eighth with a shot to center. Boudreau and Gordon set out double plays to cut the National Leaguers down in the sixth and eighth.

The paid crowd of 39,633 and several hundred reporters did plenty of talking about the disputed play which possibly cost the Indians the first battle, but apparently no official action will be taken. Having seen Associated Press photos of the incident, the Cleveland players were more than ever convinced that Boudreau did, indeed, tag out Phil Masi on the pick-off play.

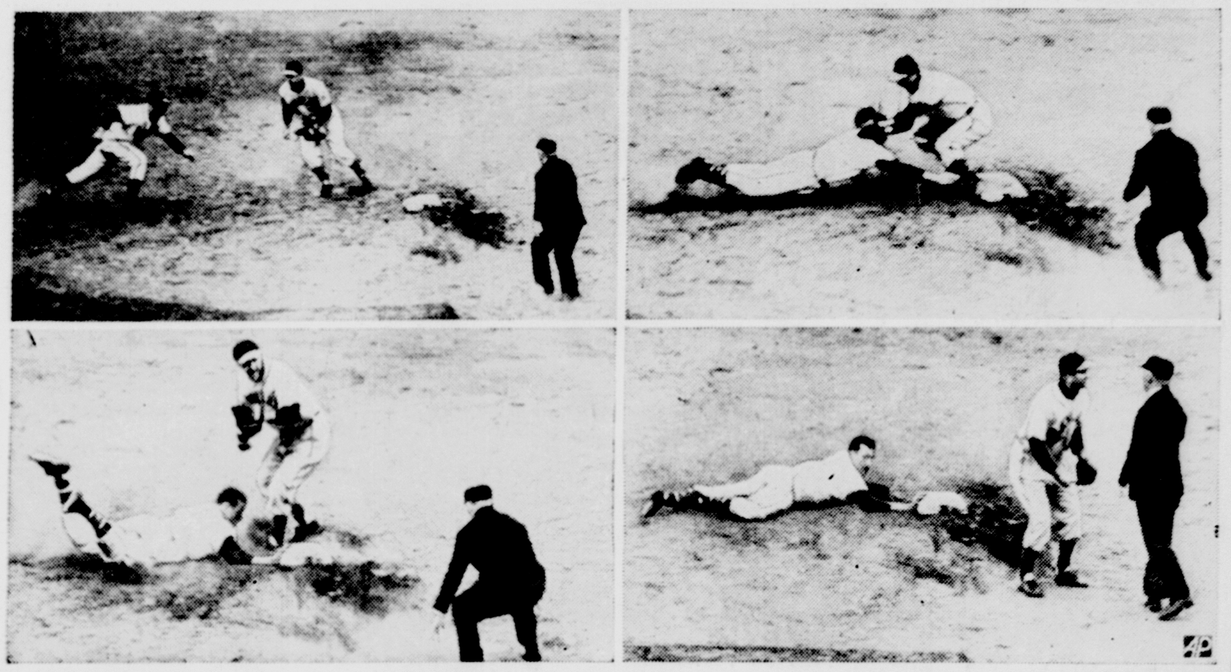
Tommy Holmes, who knocked Masi across with the winning run yesterday had no luck at all against Lemon. On three of his four trips he failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Holmes did, however, contribute the game's top fielding play. In the sixth, with Ed Robinson on first and one down, he raced close to the right field wall to haul down Jim Hegan's vicious liner with one hand and then pegged in to double up Robinson.

Tomorrow in Cleveland's huge Municipal Stadium, it will be Gene Bearden for the Indians against Vernon Bickford, crack young rookie righthander of the Braves.

DOCTOR McCALL WINS

Dr. Fred McCall defeated James E. Kelley 6 and 5 in a fifth flight match yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club in the men's fall handicap tournament.



DISPUTED PLAY—Here is how the sequence camera saw the eighth inning play in which Phil Masi, Braves catcher, was nearly picked off second base by Indians' pitcher Bob Feller, in the opening game of the world series at Boston. Top left, Masi digs in and heads back to second as Cleveland shortstop Lou Boudreau starts forward with the ball. Top right, Masi slides into bag. Bottom left, Boudreau rises from the action as Umpire Bill Stewart calls Masi safe and at bottom right, Boudreau disputes Stewart's dicision. Masi scored the winning run moments later for the Braves.

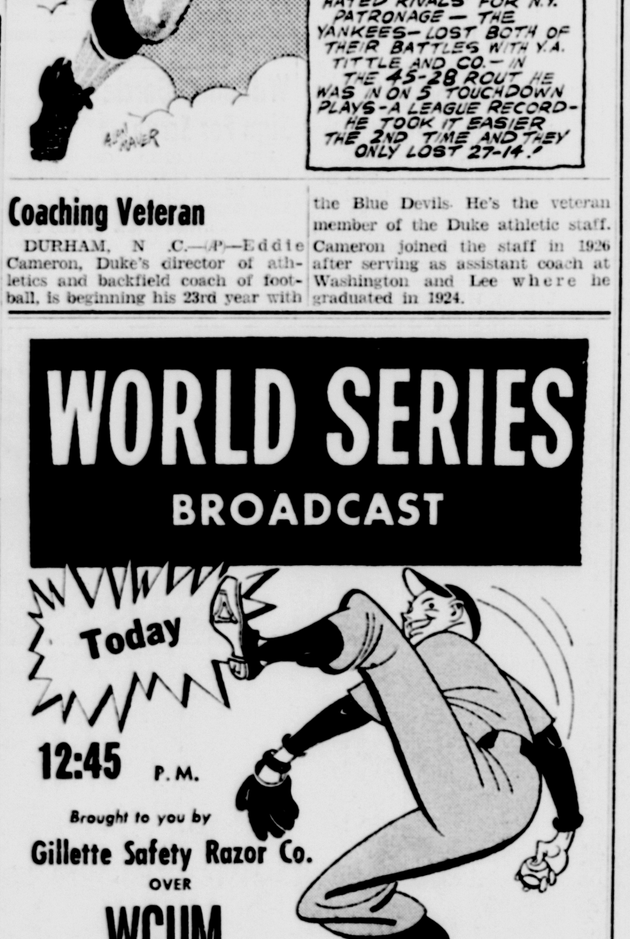
CLASS OF THE COLTS - - By Alan Maver



Coaching Veteran

DURHAM, N. C.—(AP)—Eddie Cameron, Duke's director of athletics and backfield coach of football, is beginning his 23rd year with the Blue Devils. He's the veteran member of the Duke athletic staff. Cameron joined the staff in 1926 after serving as assistant coach at Washington and Lee where he graduated in 1924.

Wade's All Even

Five Wallace Wade-coached football teams have appeared in the Rose Bowl—three from Alabama, two from Duke—and Wade's record shows two win, two losses and a tie. The present Duke mentor went to the Bowl with his 1925 Alabama eleven and dropped Washington 20-19. The 1926 squad tied Stanford 7-7, and the 1931 group routed Washington State 24-0. Wade's 1938 Duke team was dumped by Southern California 7-3, and in 1942 Oregon State took the Duke's measure, 20-16, in the transplanted game played here.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7—(INS)—Fred Zinneman, whose fine direction of "The Search" won this year's screen directors award, has another big idea.

Monica Lewis

Fred is flying directly to Tel Aviv on October 28 to gather first-hand material to use in a factual picture he will make on the Palestine situation. How wise of him to get his facts for a documentary film at the source. Palestine is so much in the news today, it should make a gripping picture.

No definite story line has been decided upon yet, but it will probaby center around the youth of Palestine. He wants to use actual incidents as he sees them happen, avoiding propaganda and favoring the objective view. Two of our best motion pictures, "The Search" and "Shoeshine" were made that way.

Zinneman will return before Christmas with the script, and will make arrangements then to film his story in Israel.

The brightest green light in the Hollywood television set up was turned on in a million dollar deal just completed between Marshall Grant-Realm Productions and the American Tobacco Company for a series of television films based on famous short stories.

Hollywood, you can bet your sweet life, is right in that deal, with Arthur Shields set to act as narrator. I don't need to tell you that Arthur is Barry Fitzgerald's brother. But he's done so many good things on his own, I don't think we need to label him that way anymore.

The first of the films—already completed—is Guy De Maupassant's "The Necklace," and it stars John Beal, Maria Palmer and Marta Mitrovitch. Looks like our infant television industry is speeding up for action.

Although the Great Garbo hasn't made a film for lo, these many years, the words "Greta Garbo sent me" are still an open sesame to any studio.

Ask writer George Tabori — he knows. Garbo sent him to director-producer Zoltan Korda, and before Tabori knew what was happening to him he was at work on the screen adaptation of Thomas Mann's book, "The Magic Mountain," Zoltan, who will produce and direct the film version of the Mann classic, is working closely with Tabori on the script.

Speaking of this member of the Korda family, I saw "The Thief Of Bagdad" on the television the other evening. Just happened to turn it on, and I thought to myself looking at those spectacular sets, here is one picture that would never be made today. Too costly.

I don't know two guys I'd rather see strike it rich than Randy Scott and Dennis O'Keefe. They are two of the solid citizens of this town.

Well, the boys have really hit the jackpot and this is how it happened. They bought an abandoned oil well at Barsdale, which had originally been discovered in 1891. No one thought there was a speck of oil left when on Monday it gave with over a thousand barrels and every day the output is increasing. Brothers Scott and O'Keefe, can you spare me a dime? Or better yet, tell me how you get your hunches.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Now it's Monica Lewis who is attracting the attention of Bob Neal. This, I am told, is so serious on both sides it may mean a marriage—but we'll wait and see.

Joy and Bill Orr have named their new daughter Diane. What a time they had choosing a name, with suggestions from all sides and especially from one of Hollywood's youngest grandmothers, Mrs. Jack Warner.

June Haver and Dr. John Duzik will be the godparents to Ruth Amprams son, born last Saturday. She is June's secretary.

Nancy Guild's new short haircut is getting many compliments. She's a very happy girl these days—happy in her marriage to Charles Russell, and happy that she's to have a baby in the spring.

Betty Hutton, all aglow after her success in London, returned Monday. I can hardly wait to hear her account of her engagement at the Palladium.

Richard Widmark, who's beginning to get top fan mail on the 20th lot, and Henry Morgan (the actor) are trying to buy the Oregon ranch of Director Henry Hathaway. Meanwhile, Ellen Drew and Sy Bartlett are there on a fishing holiday.

Cy Howard and pretty June Lockhart a dinner duo.

Helen Walker and Eddie Grubin at the Fox and Hounds talking career. Eddie is the gallant paraplegic to whom Helen has been so helpful. He opens his own act at Larry Potter's in a few days. Good for you, Eddie.

DONALD NEWMAN WEDS GRANTSVILLE GIRL

GRANTSVILLE—A wedding of interest here took place Friday evening, October 1, when Miss Ruth Elizabeth Klotz, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Klotz, became the bride of Donald James Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Newman, Salisbury, Pa.

The candlelight ceremony was performed in Grantsville Lutheran Church, with Rev. George E. Bowersox officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece brown bengaline dress, with white and gold accessories and an orchid corsage.

Miss Betty Maust, Salisbury maid of honor, wore a green silk dress with green and white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Earl Glotfelty, Salisbury, was best man.

The bride, who was graduated from Grantsville High School in 1944 and attended Catherman's Business School, Cumberland, is employed at the First State Bank here.

Mr. Newman, a graduate of Salisbury High School in 1943 and the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science in 1947, is serving his apprenticeship in the Thomas Funeral Home, Salisbury. An Army veteran of World War II, he served in the European theatre for one year.

GRANTSVILLE PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glotfelty, Monroe, N. Y., were recent guests of the former's brothers, O. J. Glotfelty and Ralph Glotfelty.

Mrs. W. Harold Miller and Mrs. Harry Yommer attended the Lutheran Women's Missionary Convention in Johnstown, Pa.

William J. Tawney, McKeesport, Pa., was a guest at the home of Miss Ethel Broadwater.

William Huff, Akron, O., spent last week visiting his brother, Ira L. Huff, and his mother and sister in Jennings.

Harry Huff, Hagerstown, spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Huff.

Miller Named Head Of School Group

GRANTSVILLE—Harold Miller was elected president of the combined Grantsville Parent - Teacher Association and the Band Boosters Club at a recent meeting in Grantsville School auditorium.

Other officers are William Biddington, vice president; Mrs. Roy Mickey, secretary; and Mrs Emmons Warnick, treasurer.

Marshall Brown, principal, outlined the school program for the coming year. An educations film, "Learning through Co - operative Planning," was shown.

Grantsville Briefs

The Grantsville 4-H Club will hold a bake sale Saturday at Charles Zellers' store, according to the leader, Mrs. Guy Hardesty.

Clyde McCurdy, manager of the Grantsville Creamery, Inc., attended the 70th anniversary observance of the I. N. Hagan Ice Cream Company in Uniontown, Pa., recently. Besides McCurdy and his family, others present were Roy Vouglet and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McKinzie, Leonard McKinzie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kinsinger, Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hetrick, Eddie Davis, Robert Hoover, Kermit Fallinger, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Garlitz and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Landis.

Miss Mary Catherine Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin J. Miller, has accepted a position at Wagner's Esso Station in Cumberland after completing her studies at Catherman's Business School.

Three Regulars Return To Radio For New Season

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—The Friday contributions to the fall schedule comprise three items. Two are on CBS and one on NBC.

Included is Jack Carson, who goes in at 8 p. m. on CBS after a season on NBC. This is a newly designed series.

Also in the next half hour on NBC is Jimmy Durante back in harness again. He also has a new time, although it's no change in nets.

Then at 9 back on CBS, there is the Friday Theater, which last year was the Sunday Theater on NBC. The sponsor is the same, but a more ambitious dramatic presentation is planned. To start off Marlene Dietrich is to have the cooperation of Van Heflin and Claude Rains reading the lines for "Madame Bovary."

Continuation of World Series Play by Play broadcasting via MBS radio and available television stations is scheduled, with the starting time on the air still 12:45 p. m.

Another sports item—boxing for ABC at 10, will consider a welterweight go between Rocky Castellani and Walter Cartier. Also in sports, there is the Bill Stern series on NBC at 10:30, which will be starting its tenth year and which will have Joe Louis as guest.

For the second of the Great Scenes from Great Plays on MBS at 8 Jane Cowl is to appear in "Corn Is Green."

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Giveaways and Comedians

As I imagine every one on earth now knows, Fred Allan returned to the air last Sunday (same time, same station, kiddies), snorting defiance at the giveaway racket. His most vehement snort was aimed in the direction of "Stop the Music," which roosts opposite him on A.B.C. and has lured a good many listeners from him.

Fred Allen

Allen insured his listeners against the possibility of losing a giveaway prize up to $5,000 with the National Surety Company so that "when people listen to me, all they can lose is thirty minutes." It's a legitimate offer, if there was ever any doubt, and a listener has to prove only that he lost an opportunity to win a prize; he doesn't have to know any answers. Since the giveaway shows keep records of whom they call, it wouldn't be hard to prove you'd been called but how you go about proving you were listening to Fred Allen at the time is beyond me.

Anyway, as this is being written, there haven't been any claimants. However, if the law of averages is maintained, there will be before the season is out. The chances of an individual getting a call is placed at around 30,000,000 to 1 but, of course, the chances of one of Allen's ten to twenty million listeners getting a call isn't at all bad. Allen doesn't particularly care if somebody gets a prize. (He will probably put the man on the air.)

The gesture has directed attention to the giveaway nonsense forcibly but in making it, it semes to me, the veteran comedian has got into the giveaway racket himself. This is quite a menacing trend in its own right. The next step, as I see it, is for a comedian with a fading Hooper to run his own telephone gimmick. The phone calls wouldn't be broadcast but they'd be made while the comedian was on the air. "What was that gag Red Skelton pulled about Cukamonga?" the girl will ask you and if you don't know you don't get the television set with the attached saloon and bartender. We'd not only have to listen to all the jokes on the air, we'd have to memorize them. Is this an improvement?

On his opening show Allen, assisted by Henry Morgan, an unemployed actor, devoted himself largely to the bane of his existence. The two comedians did a parody on "Stop the Music" which was characterized more by ferocity than wit, chiefly because giveaways are pretty hard things to make fun of. Greed is deplorable but not especially funny.

. • — • — •

In addition to getting into the insurance business, Allen has made other changes. Senator Claghorn has vanished—it's about time—and in his place is Sergei Stroganoff, music critic of Moscow's leading newspaper, "Pravda." This character, also played by Kenny Delmar, was tried out successfully last year on other Allen shows. Stroganoff is a sort of cartoon concept of Andrei Y. Vishinsky and he brings the headlines into the Allen show very nicely.

"I am here to see why Shostakovitch is not on the Hit Parade. This is a violation of the Potsdam agreement."

"But Russia . . . ."

"Always Russia! In America when Dr. Gallup is taking a few Poles, everybody is throwing stones at the iron curtain."

Stroganoff will probably lose Allen the Henry Wallace vote but other listeners, I suspect, will become quite fond of him. I can't say the same for another newcomer to Allen's Alley named Humphrey Twitter, the joy boy. This character, who replaces Ajax Cassidy and like Cassidy is played by that extraordinarily versatile actor Peter Donald, speaks in rhyme and is addicted to saying "Rejoice, brother!" His vigorous cheer will become wearing before winter is done.

Oh well, it's nice to have Fred Allen back again. He still throws the sharpest harpoon in the business.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved Mother and wife, Mrs. Nannie E. Wagoner, who passed away one year ago today, Oct. 8, 1947.

There is not a day that passes, Mom,
We do not think of you;
Your face is in our memories still,
Your voice, your footsteps too.
There's many a lonely heartache,
There's many a lonely tear,
God only knows how we miss you, Mom,
At the end of the first year.

Sadly missed by her

Joseph Williams Killed When Car Hits Tree

JOSEPH WILLIAMS

Music Teacher Dies Instantly

Joseph Williams, 53, 220 Schley Street, well-known local music instructor and entertainer, was instantly killed last night when his car struck a tree off Route 36 about 1,000 feet east of the intersection with the Wellersburg Road.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death resulted from intercranial hemorrhage caused by a depressed skull fracture. Dr. Deming said both legs and several ribs were broken.

Cpl. Harry Holsinger of the State Police said the accident occurred at 6:40 p. m. when Williams, who was driving alone, ran off the right side of the road and struck a large tree. He was said to have been returning from a business appointment in Frostburg.

Met Approaching Car

Holsinger said Williams, traveling east, met a car driven in the opposite direction by Norman R. Phillips, Barrelville, on a sharp curve.

Police quoted Phillips as saying he had to take to the ditch to avoid Williams' oncoming car. State troopers expressed the opinion that Williams was cutting across the curve when he met the Phillips car and was turning back to his own side of the road when he became confused, lost control of the car and crashed against the tree.

The car, Holsinger said was demolished. The trooper added that the speedometer was jammed at 53 miles per hour.

Williams was taken to Allegany Hospital in the ambulance of the Mt. Savage Fire Company, and was pronounced dead on arrival.

Mr. Williams was born in Ocean August 22, 1895, a son of the late Daniel and Jane Price Williams. He came to Cumberland in 1929 and had operated a music studio at his home since that time.

Peabody Graduate

A graduate of Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, he was well known in the Tri-State Area as an accomplished pianist and organist.

He played in various theaters in Baltimore, Lebanon, Pa., and in Cumberland before the days of sound motion pictures. More recently he played at a Frostburg night club, the Camelia Room, leaving there about a week ago.

He was a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge, Ali Ghan Shrine Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, Scottish Rite Masons, and of the Royal Order of Jesters.

On July 30, 1921, he was married to Helen Gillette, Frostburg, and is survived besides his wife, by three children, Miss Hilda Williams, Marshall Williams and Mrs. Robert Barnard, Jr., all of this city.

He is also survived by four brothers, William D. Williams, Mt. Savage; Thomas Williams, Cresap Park, and Charles Williams and Cambria Williams, both of Frostburg, and two grandchildren.

The body is at the Kight Funeral Home.

Two Teachers Hurt In Crash Near Flintstone

Beall Instructor's Legs Are Broken

Three Frostburg residents, two of them school teachers, were injured, one seriously, in a two-car collision early yesterday morning on Route 40 seven miles east of Flintstone.

State Trooper T. M. Gilmore, who investigated, said the injured are Prof. and Mrs. J. Stanley Hunter and Miss Ina K. Spitznas. Miss Spitznas is reported in good condition in Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted after the accident. Attaches said she sustained fractures of both legs.

Miss Spitznas, an English teacher at Beall High School, was on her way to the state teachers' conference at Baltimore with the Hunters. Hunter is head of the industrial arts department at Beall High.

Hunter and his wife sustained only minor injuries, hospital attaches said. Another teacher, Miss Gertrude Williams, of the Beall High history department, was uninjured and continued to Baltimore.

Trooper Gilmore said the accident occurred at 7:05 a. m. on a curve when the left front part of the Hunter car struck a car driven by James H. Bunt, Caldwell, Idaho, traveling in the opposite direction.

Bunt posted $3.45 bond later on a charge of failing to keep to the right side of the road. Bunt, his wife and four-year-old daughter all sustained minor injuries, Gilmore said.

Gilmore said Bunt told him he was on his way back to Idaho and had inquired in Cumberland as to how to get on Route 40 west. A local resident, he said, directed him on Route 40 east, but Bunt did not discover his mistake until he reached Hancock. He was returning when the accident occurred, he said.

Opera Tickets To Go On Sale

Reserved seat tickets for the Charles L. Wagner production of "Romeo and Juliet," to be presented November 17 in Fort Hill High School auditorium will be on sale October 25 to 30, according to Mrs. A. N. Golladay, who is sponsoring the performance.

In the nine seasons he has been producing opera for the road, Wagner has established a reputation for delivering top quality productions at modest prices and has created an enthusiastic and discriminating following of opera lovers throughout the country.

In presenting Gounod's tuneful setting of Shakespeare's ever popular "Romeo and Juliet," Wagner's intention is that it will be the finest production he has sent on the road. Reports from cities where it is now playing to packed houses indicate his enthusiasm is justified.

Tickets may be secured at the Music Shop, 35 Baltimore Street.

The Weather

Raincoats became the order of the day again yesterday as the weatherman measured .01 of an inch of precipitation, most of it falling last night. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 60 degrees but the mercury skidded to 56 degrees by 10 p. m. The low for the day was 41 degrees. Asked about the outlook for today, the weatherman advised keeping raincoats, umbrellas and overshoes handy after predicting cloudiness with scattered light showers likely."

Tractor-Trailer Rolls Over, Burns On Turnpike

A Cleveland truck driver narrowly escaped death early yesterday morning when his tractor-trailer truck turned over and caught fire on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Carlisle, Pa.

State Police at Bedford, Pa., reported the driver, Robert Lee Miles, who was slightly hurt was driving east on the turnpike about four miles west of the Carlisle interchange when the right rear wheel of his trailer came off, causing his truck to turn over.

Police said the $8,100 truck was a total loss, and a cargo of paint and batteries valued at about $40,000 was also lost.

Local Briefs

Jesse Jacobs, fire commissioner of Frostburg, will address the WCUM radio audience today at 6 p. m. on "Fire Hazards in the Home," while District Forester William A. Parr wil speak over WTBO at 6:15 on "Forest Fire Prevention."

A Class A beer license has been issued to Maurice and Bessie S. Magin for premises at 216 Avirett Avenue.

Effective October 15, the price of international reply coupons will be raised from nine cents to 11 cents, according to acting Postmaster William C. McDermott.

The Tri-State Traffic Club will meet Wednesday, October 13, at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Members wil see a group of technicolor movies presented by the New York Central Railroad.

The Mountain Radio Club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at club headquarters off Oldtown Road.

Hung Jury Will Delay Completion Of Hampshire Manslaughter Case

ROMNEY — A charge of involuntary manslaughter against Jack D. Hottel, Berkeley Springs, who was indicted by the Hampshire County grand jury in the death of Eskin L. Cannon, 20, near Springfield, will be carried over into the January term of Hampshire County Circuit Court as a result of a hung jury.

The Hampshire jury began deliberation on the case yesterday about 11 a. m. and became deadlocked at 4:30 p. m. The jury was adjourned until Monday morning, Hampshire authorities said.

Hottel was driving a car which failed to negotiate a curve and struck a culvert near Romney. Cannon was fatally injured in the crash and Hottel and two other persons were injured.

John H. Coleman, Romney negro, was found guilty Wednesday of a charge of unlawful but not malicious assault.

The court has not yet imposed sentence which calls for from one to five years in prison. His attorneys have introduced a motion for a new trial.

Coleman was arrested in June after a fight in which, Hampshire authorities said, he stabbed one of his companions, a World War II veteran, with a knife.

The trial of Gilbert D. Corbin, 37, of Romney, a driver of a truck which struck a Reynolds Transportation Company bus on July 23 at Hanging Rock Curce killing four persons and injuring three others, will begin Monday.

Judge Harlan Calhoun is presiding at the hearing before a jury.

Those killed in the crash were Arthur J. Wilson, Jr., 24, of Petersburg, driver of the bus; Minnie Crites See, 37, of Moorefield; and George Mallow, 67, of Petersburg, all passengers on the bus, and William Corbin, 57, of Romney, who was riding on the truck.

Corbin is represented by William I. Powell and Ralph W. Haines, Romney attorneys.

Group Suggests Training Course For Playleaders

Board Of Education Aid To Be Sought

Recommendation to institute a training course for city playleaders in preparation for next summer's playground season was approved last night by the City Playground Associations at a meeting in City Hall.

Mrs. Vivian Turley, president, said approval of the Board of Education would be sought to offer such a training course under the adult education program.

If approval is obtained, Mrs. Turley said, the group hopes to make arrangements for the course to start in January or February, and to continue two nights a week for two or three months.

Another recommendation unanimously approved was that if the Board of Education sanctions the course, the Park Board will be asked to make it mandatory for playleaders to take the course.

Mrs. Marguerite E. Findlay, a member of the Park Board, expressed approval of the suggestion at the meeting.

The group also suggested that a joint picnic for all children attending city playgrounds be held in Constitution Park to climax the 1949 season.

Mrs. Turley said a recommendation will also be made to the Park Board that the city pay for all materials purchased for arts and crafts work on the playgrounds.

Unanimous approval was given to a suggestion that the Park Board change playground hours next summer from the previous schedule of 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. to 10 a. m. until 8 p. m., with the two playleaders at each playground working from 10 until 4 and 2 until 8, respectively.

Mrs. Turley explained this would provide a two-hour period, from 2 until 4 p. m., when both playleaders would be on duty, enabling one to teach handicrafts while the other supervised the children's play.

Various member playground associations were asked to submit names of streets in their districts which could be roped off for sledriding this winter. The complete list will be submitted to the Police Department for approval.

Mrs. Turley also asked associations to submit a list of needed improvements at their playgrounds, so that action can be taken before the 1949 season opens.

Old Newspaper Shows Many Interesting Items

Morris Ginevan, toll bridge keeper at Oldtown, reports that he found a copy of the Cumberland Alleganian, dated January 30, 1913, and he and his friends have had many chuckles at the items appearing in it.

Particularly impressive, Ginevan said, are the prices in the advertisements. Schwarzenbach and Son advertised overcoats at $7.25. McMullen Bros. Department Store was featuring muslin skirts at 45 cents each.

News items included a story that the mayor and city council had issued a compulsory order requiring vaccination of all children and planned to ask that the program be extended to include the entire county.

War was reported in the Balkans.

$545,447 Asked For Teachers College

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 (AP)—A total of $2,957,616 was requested today by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of schools, to run the state's four teacher colleges in 1950 and 1951.

This represents an increase of almost 47 per cent over the appropriation for 1948-49, which was $2,016,896.

The biennium requests for the colleges were:

Bowie, $501,313; Frostburg, $545,447; Salisbury $597,620; and Towson, $1,313,236.

In his budget estimate, Dr. Pullen predicted an enrollment increase of 100 at each institution.

The request for the Frostburg College included $408,447 for salaries and $137,000 for operating expenses.

Industrial Committee Is Completing Local Survey

Cumberland's Industrial Promotion Committee at a meeting last night in the City Hall laid preliminary plans for the publication of a brochure being designed to promote the city and area as a site for new industries.

For the past several weeks, according to Howard M. Smith, chairman, members of the committee have been compiling data on Cumberland and this task has been completed.

The format of the brochure is being prepared and a file of complete information is being set up for quick reference to help sell the city as a location to prospective new industries.

Smith reported on his visit, accompanied by Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and James R. Kendall, to the Maryland State Planning Commission in Baltimore Wednesday.

When the appointment with I. Alvin Pasarew, the commission's director was made, Smith said it was discovered some aerial photographs were needed to complete the data they planned to show the director.

Committee Gets Co-operation

Showing the type of co-operation the committee is getting here, Smith said he contacted W. Donald Smith who in turn enlisted the help of George Ruhl, photographer. The pair went to work immediately and using Smith's plane and Ruhl's cameras and equipment completed the needed series of pictures without cost to the committee.

Smith said this is the type of local co-operation which will help put across in Cumberland the plans of the committee. It was generally agreed last night that Cumberland must adopt an optimistic attitude toward the establishment of new industry here.

Committee members declared that a study of other cities' experience shows that the people themselves are a great contributing factor in getting new plants in their towns.

In one city a taxi driver overheard a passenger say something about building a new plant.

In another a ticket agent heard a similar remark from a man buying a ticket to board a train.

In another, a city fireman giving a motorist directions engaged the man in conversation and interested him in the city to such an extent that the motorist, as important industrialist, came back there and built a plant.

Public Is Key Factor

The general public, Smith said, seems to be the key factor in helping find new, and otherwise unobtainable, leads on prospective new

President Truman Will Speak Here

Officials of the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference announced last night they had been informed that President Truman will stop in Cumberland to give a brief address late this month during his campaign tour.

He will be accompanied by F. Byrne Austin, Montgomery County Democratic candidate from the Sixth Congressional District.

They said the Democratic Party and organized labor of the county will arrange a reception for the president.

Somerset Man Is Injured In Crash

A Somerset, Pa., man was badly injured on Route 30, one fourth mile west of Buckstown, Pa., yesterday at 4:30 p. m. when the car he was driving crashed against a utility pole.

Somerset, Pa., State Police, who investigated, identified the man as Theodore W. Pritts, 38, Somerset, who is suffering from undetermined injuries in Somerset County Hospital, Somerset.

State Police said the car Pritts was driving ran off the road and struck a power pole which broke off several feet from the ground.

The top of the pole, authorities said, fell through the window of the car and struck Pritts, inflicting severe facial injuries. Damage to the car was estimated at about $900.

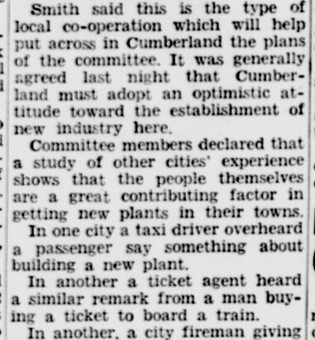
Pritts and his brother-in-law operate the Somerset Dry Cleaning establishment.

Discussion Is Held On Drafting Charter

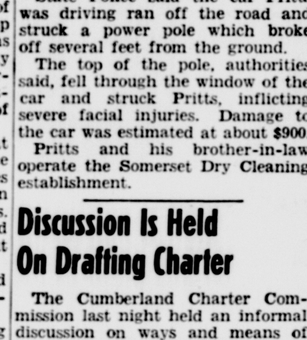
The Cumberland Charter Commission last night held an informal discussion on ways and means of drafting a new charter, at a meeting held at the home of Isaac Hirsch, chairman, 646 Washington Street.

The chairman said he had contacted Dr. Carl N. Everstine, assistant director of research in the office of Dr. Horace E. Flack, Baltimore, secretary and director of research for the Legislative Council, with regard to problems of drafting the charter.

Two Presbyterian Mission Officials To Speak At Area Churches Sunday



DR. FRANCIS SYMONDS



DR. CALVIN HAZLETT

Two Presbyterian officials experienced in mission work will speak at churches in this area on Sunday.

Dr. Francis Campbell Symonds, New York, acting secretary for the unit of special gifts of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, will be one of the speakers.

Dr. Symonds will give an address at Moffatt Memorial Mission, Barrelville, at 9 a. m. Sunday, and will speak at First Presbyterian Church, this city, at 11 a. m. worship service.

A graduate of Union University, Jackson, Tenn., and of Union Seminary, Richmond, Va., Dr. Symonds has traveled in Europe, Africa and the Near East.

Always interested in missions, he made possible the erection of church buildings in China and in Brazil.

For eight years, Dr. Symonds served as director of the Leslie County Larger Parish in the Kentucky mountains. The parish included eight churches and preaching stations, with a staff of 10 workers carrying on communitu welfare work.

The other speaker, who will appear at the 7:30 Sunday evening service at Southminster Presbyterian Church, Third and Race Streets, is Dr. Calvin H. Hazlett.

Dr. Hazlett, who has had 31 years of experience in educational and administrative work in India, is a Presbyterian missionary and executive secretary of the North India Synodical Board of the United Church of North India.

During his furlough year, Dr. Hazlett is assisting in the India office of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, New York.

State Official Praises Local Industry Survey

Pasarew Says City Sets Maryland Pace

The Cumberland Industrial Promotion Committee has compiled the most complete report and has made the most thorough survey on the city's industrial possibilities and advantages, attempted by any individual community in the state, according to I. Alvin Pasarew, director of the Maryland State Planning Commission.

Howard M. Smith, chairman of the local committee, accompanied by City Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and James R. Kendall, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce, conferred with Pasarew in his Baltimore office this week. The local group exhibited a preliminary brief of their survey and sought suggestions and help of Pasarew and the Planning Commission in bringing new industries to Cumberland and vicinity.

Most Complete Survey

In a telephone conversation with the News last night, Pasarew said, "Outside of the City of Baltimore, no other Maryland community has ever attempted such a complete and comprehensive survey."

He expressed the opinion that the data compiled will go a long way toward interesting new industries to locate here. The group appears to be a representative one, he declared, and the report is complete with a wide range of data and information about the city and its possibilities for industrial location.

"A sincere effort has been made in an intelligent direction," he continued, "to chart a course of action which should lead to the eventual industrial growth of Cumberland."

Pasarew declared that industry throughout many parts of the country is expanding and new locations are being sought. Surveys and reports such as that compiled in Cumberland, he said, provide a sound basis of operation for promotion of the community.

Pasarew said, "We on the Commission are happy to see Maryland communities taking the initiative and laying the groundwork for their own growth and expansion.

Cumberland Sets Pace

"We think Cumberland has set the pace and is leading the way for other communities to do likewise," he affirmed.

Pasarew said his office has a vast amount of material on Maryland and various sections of the state and is interested too in the industrial growth of all parts of the state. He offered the Cumberland delegation the complete cooperation of his office in the completion of reports, compiling of further data, and distribution of the material to sources where it will prove beneficial.

"The people who are doing this work, and especially Commissioner Buchholtz who spearheaded the effort, deserve the praise and commendation of your community and this office," Pasarew said. He declared, "locating new industries is a long range and continuing program, and the work the Cumberland group has already undertaken lays a perfect basis for a strong plan of attack."

He pledged his personal assistance and that of his office and commission to Cumberland and the Cumberland Industrial Promotion Committee.

Governor Lane To Speak At Chest Campaign Event

Kickoff Dinner Is Scheduled Oct. 20

Governor William Preston Lane, Jr., will visit Cumberland Wednesday evening, October 20, to be guest of nonor and principal speaker at the kickoff dinner officially opening the 1948-49 campaign of the Cumberland Community Chest.

This was announced yesterday by Henry C. Swearingen, general chairman of the campaign.

The dinner will be held in Central YMCA gymnasium.

Arrangements for Governor Lane to speak here were made by William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland, at the request of Frederic W. Eiler, president of the Cumberland Community Chest.

Swearingen, who will preside at the dinner meeting, said Walsh will be asked to introduce the governor.

The dinner, which is scheduled to begin at 6 p. m., is being held for leaders and workers in the Chest campaign. Members of the YMCA Ladies Auxiliary will be in charge of serving.

Swearingen said other details of the October 20 program and the deadline for making dinner reservations will be announced later.

Chest officials said yesterday that Governor Lane's appearance at the dinner will mark the first time that a Maryland governor has been guest speaker at a Chest campaign dinner here.

Governor Lane is expected to discuss the purposes and services of the Community Chest.

The 1948-49 campaign, which will be held October 20 to 28, has a goal this year of $84,009.24.

The advance gifts group, with a quota of $52,500, began its work this week under the chairmanship of Clarence Lippel.

James Bishop heads the classified section, with a quota of $26,510; and Mrs. Arthur C. Bright is head of the residential section, with a quota of $5,000.

Girl Scout Dog Show Saturday

The second annual "Canine Pet Show" sponsored by the Cumberland Girl Scouts will be held Saturday on the grounds in back of the scout house. Entries should be there by 1:45 and the show will begin at 2 o'clock.

Because of the number of adults who want to enter their dogs, but could not get to the scout house during the week, registrations have been extended for dogs accompanied by adults until 1 o'clock Saturday.

Classes to be judged are the most mixed breed, the best purebred, the smallest, the best groomed, the whitest, the heaviest, the dog with the most sympathetic eyes, the blackest dog, the dog with the most spots, the dog with the longest tail, with the longest ears, the most obedient dog, the largest, best yellow dog, dog doing the best trick, oldest dog, oddest dog and best dog in the show.

Dr. C. N. Foose, Jr., will be chief judge and awards will be made by Henry C. Swearingen.

Mrs. Robert T. Armstrong is general chairman of the show. Her committee includes Mrs. J. Elmer Minnicks, Mrs. Willaim B. Ludman, Mrs. John W. Stark, Mrs. Mangus W. Work and Mrs. Lloyd R. Meyers.

Local Woman Is Killed As Truck, Car Sideswipe

Mrs. Rosenstein Dies Instantly

A 65-year-old local woman was killed yesterday morning in a car-truck crash on Route 56 six miles south of Johnstown, Pa.

Cambria County Coroner Joseph Govekar identified the victim as Mrs. Elizabeth Rosenstein, 65, 609 Washington Street. He said she died of a fractured skull. Other injuries were a broken jaw and nose and extensive cuts of the face and head.

Pennsylvania State Police at Ebensburg reported the accident occurred when the driver of the car in which Mrs. Rosenstein was riding, George Ossip, local Public Service Market proprietor, attempted to pass a bus and sideswiped a truck going in the opposite direction.

Sideswiped Second Truck

Police said the truck, driven by Emory D. Berkebile, Windber, Pa., was traveling south when Ossip, Mrs. Rosenstein's son-in-law, attempted to pass a bus, swerved too far to the left and sideswiped the truck.

They reported he swung his car back to the right side of the road, continued for a distance and then sideswiped another truck going in the same direction. The second truck was operated by James B. Snail, Conemaugh, Pa.

Coroner Govekar said Mrs. Rosenstein was sitting on the left side of the rear seat directly behind Ossip, and was killed instantly when Ossip's car struck the first truck.

Last night Ossip said the cause of the accident was a blowout in his left rear tire which threw his car into the path of the truck, which hit his car. He said he struck the second truck when he attempted to turn the car back to the right side of the highway.

Also riding in Ossip's car were Mrs. Ossip, daughter of Mrs. Rosenstein, and Ossip's two children, Barbara Ann, 10, and Paul, 6. No one except Mrs. Rosenstein was injured.

Inquest October 19

State Police reported Ossip was released on his own recognizance after the accident. He is scheduled to appear at a coroner's inquest Tuesday, October 19, at 7:30 p. m. in Johnstown Public Safety Building.

Mrs. Rosenstein's body was taken to a Philadelphia funeral home. Besides her daughter, Mrs. Rosenstein is survived by two sons, David and Phillip, Philadelphia, and three sisters and two brothers, also of Philadelphia.

Ossip said his car, which was almost demolished, was taken to a Johnstown garage.

Mysterious Letter From Scotland Is New Angle In Porter Suicide Case

New mystery has developed in the suicide of Charles Bell Porter, 51, former Washington newspaper executive who leaped to his death from a hotel window in Clarksburg September 14.

A foreign letter apparently mailed in Scotland and addressed "Re Charles Bell Porter, Clarksburg, W. Va.', has been received at the Clarksburg Postoffice.

The blurred postmark on the envelope indicated the letter was mailed from "Lackwanna" or "Lackmanna", Scotland. As far as could be determined, the letter was apparently postmarked September 20, six days after Porter's death.

Postal officials said if the letter had been written in the United States, it would have been sent to the Central Accounting Office in Wheeling, W. Va., for opening.

Since it was mailed from abroad, however, the letter will go to the dead letter office in Washington. The Clarksburg postmaster explained he is not permitted to open the mail of deceased persons.

Procedure to be followed in handling the letter in Washington is not known. National or international policy may determie further action.

If the address of the sender is contained within the letter, the U. S. Postoffice Department might mail it back to the sender without divulging the contents.

The "Re" before the address on the mysterious letter aroused some conjecture as to whether the letter could b an inquiry concerning details of Porter's death.

Officials pointed out the "Re" might be interpreted as "in the matter of" Charles Bell Porter and might contain information which would throw some light on reasons for his suicide.
